Study Tips

How to Achieve Maximum Marks in English (HL)

(1) General Instructions :

The Activity Sheet carries 80 marks. Read each poem/lesson as many times as you can. Study all the activities given in the textbook. Though the wording of the activities in the Board's Activity Sheet may be different, the content will definitely be based on the textbook. (Refer to the Board's past Activity Sheets in Navneet Smart Solution English (HL) X to get an idea of what can be asked in the activities.)

(2) Instructions for Comprehension Activities :

[Q. 2. (A), (B); Q. 3. (A) : A1, A2; Q. 4. (A) : A1/B1, A2/B2, A5/B5.]

- (i) Be familiar with each and every lesson in the textbook – Prose and Poetry. You will then save a lot of time while answering the activities based on the seen extracts.
- (ii) Solve ALL the activities given on the side panels and those given in 'English Workshop' in the Textbook. Many activities in the Activity Sheet may be asked from or based on these activities.
- (iii) Study Question Set 5 for Non-textual passages.

(3) Instructions for the Language Study/Vocabulary Activities :

[Q. 1. (A), (B); Q. 2. A3/B3; Q. 4. A3]

- (i) Solve all the Vocabulary exercises given in the textbook. Learn all the Vocabulary topics given in the 'Language Study' section of the format thoroughly.
- (ii) Learn the meanings of the words and phrases from every lesson.
- (iii) Practise forming nouns, verbs, adjectives, adverbs, from given words. Learn antonyms; adding prefixes and suffixes.

(4) Instructions for the Language Study/Contextual Grammar Activities : [Q. 1. (A), (B); Q. 2. A4/B4; Q. 4. A4]

- (i) Brush up your Grammar. Learn all the Grammar topics of the 'Language Study' section thoroughly. Solve all the Grammar exercises given in the textbook.

- (ii) Learn Transformation of Sentences, e.g. use 'no sooner ... than', add a question tag, frame wh-questions, remove 'too', use 'unless', remove 'not', etc. Learn the different tenses. These will be asked in the Contextual Grammar activities.

- (iii) Learn how to pick out prepositions, adverbs, articles, etc.

Important : Grammar and Vocabulary activities carry a total of 22 marks. If you are thorough with your Grammar and Vocabulary, you can score full marks here.

(5) Instructions for the Poetry Activities : [Q. 3. (A) A3; Q. 3. (B)]

- (i) While revising the poems, mark out the figures of speech and remember them. Make yourself familiar with the rhyme schemes of each poem. This will make it easier and save time while answering the Activity Sheet.
- (ii) You will also be asked to write an appreciation of a poem [Q. 3. (B)] from your Textbook. The complete poem will be given in the Activity Sheet. Repeatedly read the appreciation of all poems beforehand in order to prepare yourself for this activity, so that you can complete it quickly and correctly. Refer to the points for quick revision given in Question Set 4.

(6) Instruction on summary of Non-textual passage : [Q. 4. (B)]

You should also prepare yourself for the question on Summary [Q. 4. (B)]. Understand well what you should and should not include in a summary. Read the instruction given in Question Set 5.

(7) Instructions for Writing Skills and Creative Writing :

[Q. 5., Q. 6. and Q. 7.]

- (i) The topics in these sections include :
- (a) Letter Writing (Formal OR Informal), (b) Information Transfer (Verbal to Non-verbal OR vice versa) (c) Speech OR View-Counterview (d) Expansion of Proverbs/Maxims/Quotations/Slogans OR News Reports based on given headline (e) Developing a story OR Narrating an experience with a given beginning/end. Study well the Question Sets 6 to 13 given in this book.
- (ii) You should read as many topics as you can, in addition to the textbook, for this question. Your general knowledge and knowledge of current topics should be good.

SECTION II : TEXTUAL PASSAGES

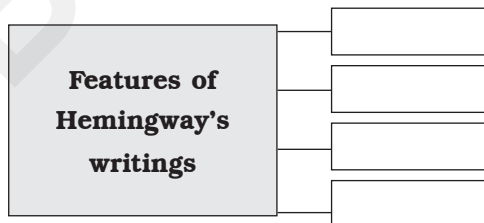

[Reading Skills, Vocabulary and Grammar]

Note : Qs. 2. (A) and 2. (B) will be based on passages from the prose lessons in the Textbook. Each question carries a total of 10 marks. Each question has 5 activities of 2 marks each. Try to attempt each passage in 15 minutes.

- Q. 2. (A) Read the following passage and do the given activities : (10 Marks)

- A1. Complete the web : (2)

Note : A1 will be Simple Factual Activity, carrying 2 marks. This activity will be of Objective type such as Fill in the blanks, Choose the correct alternative, True or False, Match the columns, Name the following, etc. This activity may also include a web or a table to be completed. Answers can be picked up directly from the given passage.

Hemingway's language is simple and pithy. He mostly writes in short and straight-forward sentences and practises an extreme economy in his use of words. This simplicity is deceptive and a reader can read his work again and again and find new layers of meaning every time.

I first read this novel years ago, when I did not understand it at all and was left unimpressed. In spite of this a vivid image remained with me – an old man holding on to his fishing line with the last of his strength. Recently I read this book again and was extremely moved. The formidable strength of the old man's character, the quiet devotion of the empathetic Manolin and the relationship between the two are heart-warming. Hemingway's descriptions of the sea and the creatures of the water are beautiful. The marlin fights for its life desperately and it's hard to know whether our sympathies should lie with the old man or with the marlin. But as the novel progresses the old man and the marlin are inseparably linked because both stand for the same ideals, that is, a noble struggle against destruction.

A2. Explain the qualities of the following characters : (2)

Note : A2 will be Complex Factual Activity, carrying 2 marks.
This activity is based on more than one part of the passage. It will be an activity based on information transfer, i.e. it will be in the format of complete the following, web, table, tree-diagram, etc. It could also be in the form of a Wh-question.

(1) Old man

(2) Manolin

A3. Do as directed : (2)

Note : A3 will be Vocabulary-based Activity carrying 2 marks.
This activity too, will be based on the passage. It will include meanings of words, phrases, opposites, similar sounding words, framing or completing sentences, tables, etc.

- Find the suitable adverbs which modify the following words : (2)

Words	Adverbs
(1) linked
(2) fights
(3) moved
(4) writes

A4. Do as directed : (2)

Note : A4 will be an Activity based on contextual grammar, carrying 2 marks. This activity tests your grammar skills. One or two grammar activities, based on the passage, will be asked.

(i) I did not understand it. (Make it affirmative.)

(ii) The marlin fights for its life.

(Change into Present Perfect Tense.)

A5. Personal Response : (2)

Note : A5 will be an activity based on Personal Response, expression, creation and imagination carrying 2 marks. It asks for your personal opinion or views on the issues that arise out of the passage.

‘Every hardworking person achieves success in life.’ Explain.

Answers to Q. 2. (A)

- A1.
- | | | |
|---|---|-----|
| Features of Hemingway's writings | simple | (½) |
| | pithy | (½) |
| | straightforward | (½) |
| | extreme economy in the use of words (short) | (½) |

	(2) fights	desperately	(½)
	(3) moved	extremely	(½)
	(4) writes	mostly	(½)

- A4. (i) I failed to understand it./I was unable to understand it. (1)
(ii) The Marlin has fought for its life. (1)

- A5. This may not be true in all cases. Along with hard work, one must also get the right opportunities at the right times. However, in most cases, hard work does lead to success. We have many examples to prove it. Hence, we must work hard to achieve success in life and not believe in things like 'luck' and 'chance'. (2)

Q. 2. (B) Read the following passage and do the given activities : (10 Marks)

Note : Activities in Q. 2. (B) are also based on a textual passage. Refer to the notes given with A1 to A5 in Q. 1. (A).

- B1. State whether the following statements are True or False : (2)

- (i) Kailash Satyarthi sees children growing freely with dignity.
- (ii) Let us march from morality to divinity.
- (iii) Today, beyond the darkness, Kailash Satyarthi sees the smiling faces of our children in the blinking stars.
- (iv) Let us march from ignorance to awakening.

As a child, I had a vision of tomorrow : A vision of that cobbler boy sitting with me in my classroom.

Now, that tomorrow has become TODAY.

I am TODAY, and you are TODAY. TODAY it is time for every child to have a right to life, right to freedom, right to health, right to education, right to safety, right to dignity, right to equality, and right to peace.

TODAY, beyond the darkness, I see the smiling faces of our children in the blinking stars. TODAY, in every wave of every ocean, I see my children are playing and dancing. TODAY, in every plant, in every tree and mountain, I see our children growing freely with dignity.

Friends, I want you to see and feel this TODAY inside you.

My dear sisters and brothers, as I said many interesting things are happening today. May I please request you to put your hand close to your heart – close your eyes and feel the child inside you?

I am sure you can – Now, listen to that child. Listen please.

Today, I see thousands of Mahatma Gandhis, Nelson Mandelas and Martin Luther Kings calling on us.

Let us democratise knowledge. Let us universalise justice. Together, let us globalise compassion!

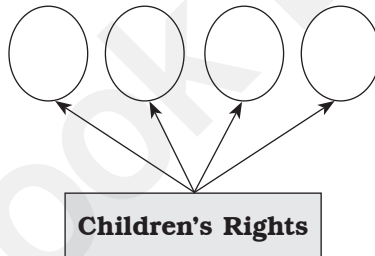

I call upon you in this room, and all across the world. I call for a march from exploitation to education, I call for a march from poverty to shared prosperity, a march from slavery to liberty, and a march from violence to peace.

Let us march from ignorance to awakening. Let us march from darkness to light. Let us march from mortality to divinity.

Let us march!

B2. Complete the given diagram :

(2)

B3. (1) Write the noun forms of the following :

(1)

- (i) democratise –
- (ii) universalise –

(2) Write the adjective forms of the following :

(1)

- (i) prosperity –
- (ii) liberty –

B4. Do as directed :

(2)

(1) Today, I see thousands of Mahatma Gandhis, Nelson Mandelas and Martin Luther Kings. (Begin the sentence with : "Today, thousands of Mahatma Gandhis")

(2) Tomorrow has become TODAY.

(Make it a Yes/No Interrogative Sentence.)

B5. What measures would you take to prevent child labour? (2)

Answers to Q. 2. (B)

B1. (i) Kailash Satyarthi sees children growing freely with dignity.

– True

(ii) Let us march from morality to divinity.

– False

(iii) Today, beyond the darkness, Kailash Satyarthi sees the smiling faces of our children in the blinking stars.

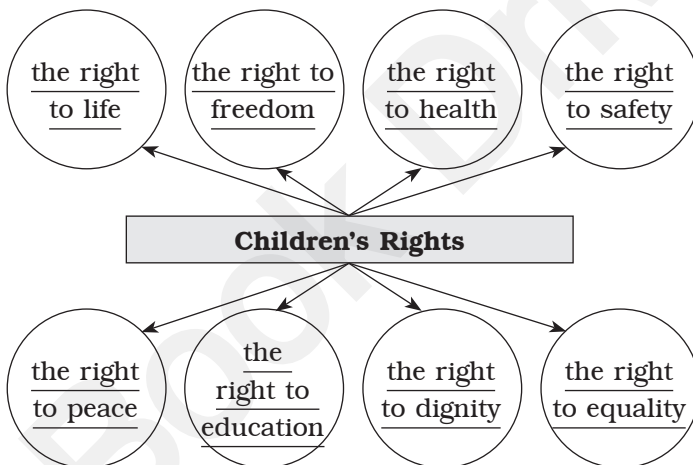

– True

(iv) Let us march from ignorance to awakening.

– True

(Four correct answers – ½ mark each)

B2.

(Any four correct answers – ½ mark each)

B3. (1) (i) democratise – democracy

(ii) universalise – universe

(2) (i) prosperity – prosperous

(ii) liberty – liberal

(Four correct answers – ½ mark each)

(i) players
(ii) exit
(iii) stage
(iv) entry

(a) birth
(b) characters
(c) death
(d) life

All the world's a stage,
 And all the men and women merely players;
 They have their exits and their entrances,
 And one man in his time plays many parts,
 His acts being seven ages, At first, the infant,
 Mewling and puking in the nurse's arms.
 Then the whining schoolboy, with his satchel
 And shining morning face, creeping like snail
 Unwillingly to school. And then the lover,
 Sighing like furnace, with a woeful ballad
 Made to his mistress' eyebrow. Then a soldier,
 Full of strange oaths and bearded like the pard,
 Jealous in honour, sudden and quick in quarrel,
 Seeking the bubble reputation
 Even in the cannon's mouth. And then the justice,
 In fair round belly with good capon lined,
 With eyes severe and beard of formal cut,
 Full of wise saws and modern instances;
 And so he plays his part.

A2. Write down in your words the difference between the following stages of a man's life : (2)

(i) 3rd stage :

(ii) 5th stage :

Note : A2 will be Complex Factual Activity, carrying 2 marks. This question may be based on more than one part of the extract or may require a long answer of more than one sentence. This can be in the form of a 'Wh-' question.

A3. Name the figure of speech : (1)

Note : A3 will be an activity based on Poetic Devices carrying 1 mark. This activity tests various aspects of poetry such as Poetic language, Rhyming words, Rhyme scheme, Figures of Speech, etc. This activity too, will be of the Objective type.

'All the world's a stage'.

Answers to Q. 3. (A)

- A1. (i) players – characters (½)
(ii) exit – death (½)
(iii) stage – life (½)
(iv) entry – birth (½)

A2. (i) 3rd Stage : The third stage is that of a lover, who is breathless and sighing with passion. He sings sad songs dedicated to the beauty of his lover.
(1)

(ii) 5th Stage : The fifth stage is that of a mature middle-aged man with a round belly. He is stern and formal and full of wisdom. He is full of wise sayings and gives modern examples.
(1)

A3. Metaphor : The world is implicitly compared with a stage. (1)

Q. 3. (B) Read the following poem and write its appreciation of it with the help of the given points in a paragraph : (5 Marks)

Note : In Q. 3. (B) in the Activity Sheet, you are expected to read the given poem and write an Appreciation in the form of paragraphs based on the given points.

The Will to Win

If you want a thing bad enough to go out and fight for it, work day and night for it, give up your time and your peace and your sleep for it
If all that you dream and scheme is about it and life seems useless and worthless without it
If you gladly sweat for, fret for and plan for it and lose all your terror of the God or man for it.
If you simply go after that thing that you want with all of your capacity, strength and sagacity, faith, hope and confidence and stern pertinacity.

If neither cold or poverty, famished or gaunt or sickness or pain of body and brain
can keep you away from the thing that you want,
If dogged and grim you besiege and beset it, with the help of GOD you'll get it!

– Berton Braley

You can use the following points while appreciating the given poem :

- The title (½)
- The poem (½)
- Rhyme scheme (1)
- Figures of speech (1)
- Central idea/Theme (2)

Answers to Q. 3. (B)

Berton Braley has written this inspirational poem, 'The Will To Win'.

The poem has no specific rhyme scheme, but rhymes are used randomly all throughout. The most common type is lines ending with the word 'it'; e.g. 'for it', 'of it', 'without it', 'about it'; 'beget it', 'get it'; 'sweat for it', 'fret for it' and so on. Other examples are 'capacity', 'sagacity', 'pertinacity'; 'pain', 'brain'.

The main figure of speech used is Repetition, as seen in the abundance of 'for it' phrases used throughout the poem. The other figures of speech are Climax, Tautology, Antithesis, etc.

The poet gives us a formula for sure success. He tells us what we should do and what we should avoid doing in order to achieve success. He says that we must go out and fight for success.

It is an inspirational poem. It motivates one to set targets and achieve goals.

SECTION IV : NON-TEXTUAL PASSAGE

[Reading Skills, Vocabulary, Grammar and Summary]

Note : Q. 4. will be based on a Non-textual Prose Passage, i.e. a passage not from the Textbook. Q. 4. (A) will be comprehension activities of 10 marks. In Q. 4. (B) a Summary of the passage given in Q. 4. (A) is to be written. Try to finish the comprehension in 20 minutes and summary in 10 minutes.

Q. 4. (A) Read the following passage and do the given activities : (10 Marks)

Note : The nature of all the activities for this question will be similar to those given in Q. 2. (A).

A1. Complete the following sentences : (2)

- (i) If you have Type 2 diabetes
- (ii) Organic options are fine
- (iii) Different fruits and vegetables contain
- (iv) Peas, corns and potatoes were not associated with

Variety is key, because different fruits and vegetables contain different beneficial nutrients and antioxidants. Wang's study showed that almost all fruits and vegetables, including leafy greens, citrus fruits and berries, were associated with lower mortality, but there were some exceptions. Fruit juices and starchy vegetables such as peas, corn and potatoes were not associated with reduced risk of death or chronic diseases. It may be due to their higher glycaemic load compared with other fruits and vegetables, which means they have a greater ability to raise blood sugar levels. While the sugar content in two servings of fruit isn't a cause for concern in general, if you have Type 2 diabetes you should discuss your portions with a dietician.

Your five daily servings can be met from a variety of fresh, frozen or canned fruits and vegetables, whether conventional or organic. Whichever options are available, affordable and appealing are good choices.

Studies show that freezing and canning preserves nutrients, which often makes these foods even more nutrient-dense than their fresh counterparts. Plus, canned and frozen produce are good options for people whose barriers to consuming enough servings per day include the high cost, low access, poor quality and lack of fresh fruits and vegetables.

And what about organic options? They're fine if you can access and afford them, but it's not necessary to purchase organically grown produce.

A2. How can you fulfil your five daily servings? (2)

A3. Add a prefix to make opposites of the following : (2)

(1) mortality × (2) ability ×

(3) affordable × (4) available ×

A4. Do as directed : (2)

(i) They have a greater ability to raise blood sugar levels.

(State the word class of the underlined words.)

(ii) Studies show that freezing and canning preserves nutrients.

(Rewrite the sentence adding a question tag.)

A5. 'Eating fruits are good for health'. Do you agree/disagree?

Give reasons for your answer. (2)

Answers to Q. 4. (A)

A1. (i) If you have type 2 diabetes you should discuss your portions with a dietician. (½)

(ii) Organic options are fine if you can access and afford them. (½)

(iii) Different fruits and vegetables contain different beneficial nutrients and antioxidants. (½)

(iv) Peas, corn and potatoes were not associated with reduced risk of death or chronic diseases. (½)

A2. We can fulfil our five daily servings by eating a variety of fruits and vegetables, either fresh, frozen or canned. They may be conventional or organic, but they should be affordable and appealing. (2)

- A3. (1) mortality × immortality (½)
(2) ability × inability (½)
(3) affordable × unaffordable (½)
(4) available × unavailable (½)
- A4. (i) they – pronoun; ability – noun (1)
(ii) Studies show that freezing and canning preserves nutrients, don't they? (1)
- A5. I certainly agree that eating fruits is good for health. Fruits are juicy and help to quench our thirst. They contain a lot of nutrients, vitamins and antioxidants. These help to develop our immunity and prevent common diseases. However, we must eat all types of fruits. The fruits need not be expensive or special. If fresh fruits are not available, we can eat frozen or canned fruits. (2)

Q. 4. (B) Summary Writing : (5 Marks)

Note : Here, you will be asked to write the summary of the non-textual passage given in Q. 4. (A). Note the following while attempting this question :

- (1) A summary comprises about one-third of the number of words of the given passage.
- (2) It should contain only the essential ideas of the original passage.
- (3) All repetitions, illustrations, proverbs and quotations should be excluded in the answer.
- (4) The summary should be written in a language which is crystal-clear, without there being any scope for ambiguity.
- (5) The summary should be as simple, short and original as possible.
- (6) It should be written in your own words. The sentences should as far as possible not be copied from the original passage, except the keywords.
- (7) A title must be provided to the summary and it must be in harmony with the summary.

Marking scheme :

| • Suggests/Writes a suitable title | 1 mark |
| • Central idea/Theme | 2 marks |
| • Use of appropriate language | 2 marks |

Total 5 marks

Read the passage given in Q. 4. (A) and write a summary of it in a paragraph. Suggest a suitable title.

Answer to Q. 4. (B)Importance of Fruits and Vegetables in our Diet

Different fruits and vegetables contain different nutrients and antioxidants. Most fruits and vegetables reduce mortality rate. However, fruit juices and starchy vegetables have a greater ability to increase blood sugar levels, and those having type 2 diabetes must consult their doctors about the portions to be consumed. Our five daily servings can be met by eating a variety of fruits and vegetables, either fresh, frozen or canned. They may be conventional or organic, but should be affordable and appealing. Canned and frozen goods are good options when necessary. It is not essential to consume organic foods for good health.

Subject : Music Festival in our school

Respected Sir,

On behalf of the Students' Committee of our school, I request your permission to organise a Music Festival in our school. Many of our students are music lovers and deeply interested in music. Music also helps to relieve stress.

After thorough discussion, the Students' Committee has tentatively fixed Thursday, 5th September, 10 a.m. – 2 p.m., for the festival. It will be a part of the Teachers' Day Celebrations. The venue is our school hall. Our own students will sing as well as play different musical instruments during the fest. We also plan to invite Mr. Gopal Mahadevan, the renowned musician, to give a short performance. He has already agreed to this.

We sincerely request your permission and help. We have formed a special committee for the function, and assure you that we will manage things well.

Thanking you,
Yours obediently,
Meeta Shinde
(Students' Representative)

Nashik – 422 001.
6th August, 2025

My dear Amita,

Hi! How are you? How is your music practice going on?

I am writing this letter because I have an invitation for you. You know that many of our students are music lovers and deeply interested in music. Music also helps to relieve stress. Hence, our Students' Committee is organising a Music Festival on Thursday, 5th September, between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. The venue is our school hall. Our own students will sing as well as play different musical instruments during the fest. We plan to invite Mr. Gopal Mahadevan, the renowned musician, to give a short performance.

Each student of Std. X is allowed to invite a guest. I will be most happy if you come. Trust me, the festival will be great. You will really enjoy it. Bye for now. See you on the 5th.

Your loving friend,
Meeta

A2. Barriers to Effective Communication

Good communication is very important for the well-being of society. However, there are many barriers to effective communication. Difference in language and a lack of interest in the topic are two major ones. If the communicators cannot understand each others' language, or if they are not interested in the topic under discussion, then communication will be affected negatively. This is also the case if there is any form of discomfort with the topic being discussed. Noise in the vicinity hinders communication just as distance between the communicators does. And last but not the least, any type of distraction for the communicators will prove to be an effective barrier. One must get rid of these barriers if one wants good communication.

- Users can carry hundreds of books anywhere they go.
- E-books are equipped with interactive elements for better reading experience. These contain audio, video and animations which are ideal for children.
- E-book publishing is very easy, fast and less time consuming.

Answers to Q. 6. (B)B1.*What I can give for India

Respected Principal, teachers and my dear friends,

Good morning. The topic of my speech today is : What I can give for India. I, XYZ, will share my views on this with you.

As I am still a student, perhaps I cannot do anything major for the country at this moment. However, I can still do many small but important things. I can take care of the environment and help to maintain a green cover. I can keep my surroundings clean and hygienic and persuade others to do so too. Saving water is the need of the day, and I can help to save every drop of water and prevent wastage. I will also recycle and reuse materials, and reduce my use of some. To whatever extent possible, I will encourage people to support and help each other. Thus, I will conclude my speech by saying that I know that there are many more things I can do for my country, and I will certainly try to do them. Thank you.

B2. Real Books Score Over E-Books

Today, there is a lot of talk about the e-books being better than real books. I beg to differ. This is not possible.

E-books are certainly cheaper and more easily accessible—to those fortunate enough to live in cities. In a vast country like India, where lakhs of people do not even have electric connections, let alone laptops and phones, the very thought of e-books replacing real books is laughable. One can certainly carry hundreds of e-books wherever one goes, but does this replace the pleasure of reading a real book? No, it does not.

Yes, publishing e-books may be fast and easy, and saves time, but at what cost? Continuous exposure to the computer screen affects our eyes and our health. Is it really worth it? E-books may be interactive for kids with audio, video, animation and other facilities, no doubt, but this also means that it does not allow the imagination of the reader to grow. It retards creativity. Besides, real books have a feel and smell that can never be replaced by e-books. No, e-books can supplement real books but can never replace real books.

Total 5 marksWrite a news report based on the given headline :

'Book Lovers' Society organises a Book Fair'.

Answers to Q. 7. (A)A1. Go Green : Breathe Clean

'Going green' is a term used to describe a number of things. It means afforestation: that is, planting more trees to provide more oxygen for breathing. It means protecting and expanding the forests we have. It means trying to reduce air pollution in various ways, like car-pooling, controlling vehicular and industrial emissions, stopping burning of leaves and waste material, and limiting the use of non-renewable resources.

Going green can also mean adopting the three Rs—recycle, reuse and reduce. Recycling means putting something old to fresh use. Reuse means putting to use things that we would normally have thrown out. Reduce means to decrease our extravagant needs and try to live in a more frugal manner.

Nature has already begun to give us human beings a warning—go green, or there will be serious climate changes that will affect the planet in a negative way. Thus, the only way out for us is to prevent climate change by going green—only then will we breathe clean.

A2. Book Lovers' Society organises a Book Fair

–By a News Reporter

March 6, Jaipur : A mega book fair spanning over five days was organised by the Book Lovers' Society of Jaipur. The event took place at the Jaipur Gymkhana near Rani Bagh.

The book fair had books to please all sections of society, right from toddlers to senior citizens. There were about seven tents put up and the division of the books was primarily based on the language of the book. There were also special bookstalls set up by publishers. Most of the stalls displayed signs of some type of sale. It was heartening to see the crowds, showing that the reading of real books still held an important place in the lives of people.

"It's wonderful to be able to browse through so many books," gushed a young mother. "I have managed to buy quite a number for my daughter as well as for myself. The discounts given are really good. I've travelled twenty kms to come here, and it was well worth it." Long live the habit of book reading!

Answers to Q. 7. (B)B1.*Lost in the Forest

It was Sunday. Anuj, along with his friends, was going trekking. As soon as they reached the beginning of the trail, they collected sticks from the local guide.

The five friends were going trekking into the nearby forest. They soon set off briskly with the guide. Anuj lagged behind looking curiously at the various plants and flowers. He was fond of plants and planned to become a botanist when he grew up.

He bent down to examine a pretty plant closely. What was it? After a few moments, when he straightened, he found that he was alone. Where had all the others disappeared? How had they just vanished? He called out to them loudly, but all the response he got was the swishing of leaves and some rustling in the undergrowth. His heart beat loudly. Were there snakes or other creepy crawlies around? He wished he had not fallen behind the others and ignored the warnings of the guide.

His continued to call loudly, waving his stick fiercely. "Oh, where are all of you? I'm lost! I'm lost!" Now there was panic in his voice.

Suddenly the bushes moved aside and the face of the guide appeared. "I told you to keep up with the others," he said sternly. "You would have been lost in the jungle. Come along!" Feeling tremendously relieved, Anuj joined the group waiting patiently for him. He would never be so foolish again!

A Helpful Friend

I am sorry to say that I really hated the subject 'History'. I found it utterly useless and could never remember the dates and facts. To my disgust, I always scored the lowest marks in the class in the subject.

Then one day, a new girl joined our school. Our class teacher gave her the seat next to me and told me sternly to help her at all times. I looked at her from the corner of my eyes. Was she nice? Was she clever? Was she proud? To my surprise, I found that her eyes had tears, which she was trying to brush off. Immediately, I felt my heart soften.

"Don't worry, I will take you around in the recess," I said. She smiled and looked a bit relieved. Before recess, we had History – a subject I hated and I grumbled beneath my breath.

"You don't like history? I love it", said Nita, the new girl.

"I keep forgetting the dates and facts," I complained.

"I will help you to remember them," offered Nita. "I'll teach you mnemonics."

These are techniques used to improve and assist memory. It is a fun way of remembering."

Over a period of one week, Nita taught me mnemonics and I never hated history again. Thus, my friend helped me in my academic development.

Lesson 1.2

The Thief's Story

Q. Read the following passages and complete the given activities : (10 Marks)

PASSAGE 1

A1/B1. Simple Factual Activity : (2)

A1. Complete the following :

- (i) The 'T' in the story refers to
- (ii) Anil kept Hari as a cook because

PASSAGE (Textbook pages 9 and 10)

I was still a thief when I met Anil. And though only 15, I was an experienced and fairly successful hand.

Anil was watching a wrestling match when I approached him. He was about 25 — a tall, lean fellow — and he looked easy-going, kind and simple enough for my purpose. I hadn't had much luck of late and thought I might be able to get into the young man's confidence.

"You look a bit of a wrestler yourself." I said. A little flattery helps in making friends.

"So do you," he replied, which put me off for a moment because at that time I was rather thin.

"Well," I said modestly, "I do wrestle a bit."

"What's your name?"

"Hari Singh," I lied. I took a new name every month. That kept me ahead of the police and my former employers.

After this introduction, Anil talked about the well-oiled wrestlers who were grunting, lifting and throwing each other about. I didn't have much to say. Anil walked away. I followed casually.

"Hello again," he said.

I gave him my most appealing smile. "I want to work for you," I said.

"But I can't pay you."

I thought that over for a minute. Perhaps I had misjudged my man.

I asked, "Can you feed me?"

"Can you cook?"

"I can cook," I lied again.

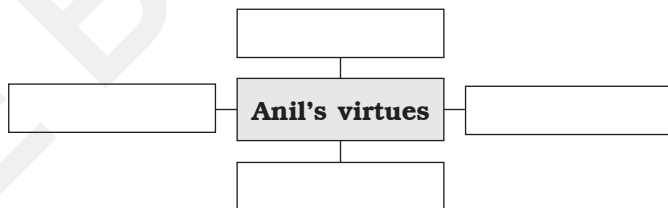

"If you can cook, then may be I can feed you."

Note : We have given complete passage here. However, only first and last lines of the passages are given, hereafter, with the references of textbook page numbers. Please refer to the textbook for the complete passages.

Further, it conveys that the speaker (Narrator; Srijan) himself received an education from Dr Kalam by association with him.

Lesson 3.2

The Night I Met Einstein

Q. Read the following passage and complete the given activities :

PASSAGE

A1. Write True or False :

- (i) The narrator liked songs that had words.
 (ii) The guest was impolite to the narrator.
 (iii) Bing Crosby's song was one of the narrator's favourites.
 (iv) The narrator and the guest quarrelled about music.

PASSAGE (Textbook page 109)

So I went up Could you have done it?

A2. Explain how Einstein and the writer were different in the way they listened to music.

A3. (1) Pick out the words that refer to the following :

- (i) a device used to play recorded music :
 (ii) one who is poor at deciphering musical notes :

(2) Write the antonyms of the following words using a prefix :

(i) pleased

(ii) like

A4. (i) Rewrite using the indirect form of narration :

He asked, "What kind of music do you like?"

(ii) Add a question tag :

It proves everything.

A5. Do you think the comparison between music and arithmetic was a good one? In what way?

Answers

A1. (i) The narrator liked songs that had words. – True

(ii) The guest was impolite to the narrator. – False

(iii) Bing Crosby's song was one of the narrator's favourites. – True

(iv) The narrator and the guest quarrelled about music. – False

A2. Einstein was used to listening to classical music, whereas the writer preferred songs that had words and the kind of music where he could follow the tune. Einstein had a keen ear for music, but the writer was tone-deaf and so could not understand music.

A3. (1) (i) gramophone (ii) tone-deaf

(2) (i) pleased × displeased (ii) like × unlike/dislike

A4. (i) He asked what kind of music I liked.

(ii) It proves everything, doesn't it?

A5. Yes, I think that the comparison between music and arithmetic was a good one because music too involves timing, rhythm and beats that require some mathematical knowledge. Also Einstein showed how, when we are taught arithmetic, we begin with the simple and then move to the complicated. It is the same with music. From music with words – which is within the grasp of the average listener, Einstein progressed to music without words – which is what classical music is all about.

Total 5 marks1.1 Where the Mind is Without Fear (Textbook page 3)*(March '25)*Points format

(for Understanding and Revision)

- The title of the poem : 'Where the mind is without fear.....'
- The poet : Rabindranath Tagore
- Rhyme scheme : Written in free verse without any rhyme scheme or metre.
- Figures of speech : Personification, Repetition, Metaphor, Alliteration, etc.
- Theme/Central idea : This is a prayer to God. Tagore appeals to God to awaken his country into a heaven of freedom, where only freedom of good thoughts, good words and good actions exists.

Paragraph Format

The poem 'Where the mind is without fear' is written by Nobel Laureate Rabindranath Tagore.

The poem is written in free verse without any rhyme scheme or consistent metre. There are many figures of speech e.g. Repetition, Metaphor, Alliteration, etc. which add to the poetic effects. An important figure of speech is Personification – 'Where tireless striving stretches its arms towards perfection'. Here, the poet has personified 'tireless striving' which stretches its arms to reach its goal.

The poem is prayer to God. Tagore addresses God as 'my Father' and appeals to Him to awaken his country into a heaven of freedom, where there is total freedom of good thoughts, good words and good actions. He wishes for a country where people would be free from fear, where knowledge would be free to all individuals and people from all castes and religions would be united.

1.4 All the World's a Stage (Textbook pages 24, 25)

(March '20 – '23; July '25)

Points format

(for Understanding and Revision)

- The title of the poem : 'All the World's a Stage'
- The poet : William Shakespeare
- Rhyme scheme : blank verse i.e. no rhyme scheme, but there is a steady rhythm of five beats in each line.
- Figures of speech : Metaphor, Simile, Alliteration, Repetition, etc.
- Theme/Central idea : The theme of the poem is the cycle of life.

Paragraph Format

The poem 'All the World's a Stage' is by William Shakespeare. It is taken from Shakespeare's play 'As you like it'. It is a monologue by one of the characters in the play.

The poem is written in blank verse i.e. there is no rhyme scheme, but there is a steady rhythm of five beats in each line. There are many figures of speech, like Simile, Alliteration and Repetition, but the one that stands out is Metaphor. In the lines 'All the world's a stage, And all men and women are merely players', there is an implied comparison between two different things.

In this poem, Shakespeare compares life to a stage. He has divided life into seven stages, each having its own varied qualities and features. The theme of the poem is the cycle of life. It tells us how one starts out as an infant, helpless, without understanding, and ends the same way, without being aware of what is happening around him/her.

2.1 Animals (Textbook page 46)

(Nov. '20; July '23)

Points format

(for Understanding and Revision)

- The title of the poem : 'Animals'
- The poet : Walt Whitman
- Rhyme scheme : free verse (no rhyme scheme)
- Figures of speech : Repetition, Alliteration, Tautology, Hyperbole, etc.
- Theme/Central idea : Animals are better than humans.

Paragraph Format

The poem 'Animals' has been penned by Walt Whitman.

The poet has broken away from the conventional use of a rhyme scheme and has written the poem in free verse.

The chief figure of speech used in the poem is Repetition. Lines such as 'They do not sweat ...', 'They do not lie awake ...', 'They do not make me sick ...' make a strong impact, expressing the qualities that humans should possess, but do not. The other figures of speech are Alliteration, Tautology, Hyperbole, Paradox, etc.

The central idea of the poem is that animals today are better than humans as they have retained their good qualities, unlike humans.

2.4 The Pulley (Textbook page 71)

(July '22)

Points format

(for Understanding and Revision)

- Title of the poem : 'The Pulley'
- The poet : George Herbert
- Rhyme scheme : ababa
- Figures of speech : Metaphor, Pun, Inversion, Paradox, etc.
- Theme/Central idea : The reason why man is continually restless.

Paragraph Format

The title of the poem is 'The Pulley'. The poet is George Herbert.

Each stanza of the poem has five lines. The rhyme scheme of the poem is ababa.

The chief figure of speech used in the poem is Metaphor. The 'glass of blessings' signifies the sum of all human qualities bestowed on man. The quality of 'rest' or 'contentment' is implicitly compared to a 'jewel'. The other figures of speech are Pun, Inversion, Paradox, etc.

The central idea of the poem is the reason for man's continual restlessness all his life. According to the poet, this is because God withheld the quality of 'rest' from man, so that man's thoughts would ultimately turn towards God, his creator.

3.1 Night of the Scorpion (Textbook pages 101, 102)

(March '22)

Points format

(for Understanding and Revision)

- The title of the poem : 'Night of the Scorpion'
- The poet : Nissim Ezekiel
- Rhyme scheme : Written in free verse without any rhyme scheme or metre.
- Figures of speech : Onomatopoeia, Metaphor, Alliteration, Simile, Antithesis, etc.
- Theme/Central idea : The poet depicts the selflessness and unconditional love of a mother who is stung by a scorpion.

Paragraph Format

The poem 'Night of the Scorpion' is written by Nissim Ezekiel. The poem is written in free verse without any rhyme scheme or metre. There are many figures of speech, e.g. Onomatopoeia like 'and buzzed the name of God a hundred times'. Here, we feel we can actually hear the buzzing of the prayers of the many peasants. The other figures of speech are Metaphor, Alliteration, Simile, Antithesis, etc. The behaviour of the peasants and the poet's father are vividly described. The imagery appeals to our senses.

The theme of the poem is the sense of sacrifice shown by a devoted mother. Even as she suffers the pangs of a scorpion-bite, she thanks God for sparing her children from such an ordeal.

3.4 The Will to Win (Textbook page 124) (July '24)

Points format

(for Understanding and Revision)

- The title of the poem : 'The Will to Win'
- The poet : Berton Braley
- Rhyme scheme : No specific rhyme scheme, rhymes are used randomly.
- Figures of speech : Repetition, Climax, Tautology, Antithesis, etc.

4.1 A Thing of Beauty is a Joy For Ever

(Textbook pages 147, 148)

Points format

(for Understanding and Revision)

- The title of the poem : 'A Thing of Beauty is a Joy For Ever'
- The poet : John Keats
- Rhyme scheme : aabb; rhyming couplets.
- Figures of speech : Epigram, Metaphor, Antithesis, etc.
- Theme/Central idea : beautiful things give unending pleasure and can change our lives.

Paragraph Format

The poem 'A Thing of Beauty is a Joy For Ever' by John Keats is taken from a longer poem 'Endymion' based on Greek Mythology.

The rhyme scheme of the poem is aabb; that is, the poem is written in rhyming couplets. There are many figures of speech, like Metaphor, Antithesis, Personification, etc. but the one that stands out is Epigram. The line 'A thing of beauty is a joy for ever', is a pithy saying expressing the idea of beauty in a clever way.

The important thing that the poet tells us is that beautiful things last forever and give us immense happiness. They give unending pleasure and can change our lives. They help us to move forward in a positive manner.

4.4 The Height of the Ridiculous (Textbook pages 171, 172)

(Sept. '21; March '24)

Points format

(for Understanding and Revision)

- The title of the poem : 'The Height of the Ridiculous'
- The poet : Oliver Wendell Holmes
- Rhyme scheme : abcb.
- Figures of speech : Transferred Epithet, Hyperbole, Onomatopoeia, Tautology, Alliteration, etc.
- Theme/Central idea : A funny poem to simply entertain the audience; written for enjoyment.

Paragraph Format

The poem 'The Height of the Ridiculous' is written by Oliver Wendell Holmes.

The rhyme scheme of the poem is abcb. There are many figures of speech, like Hyperbole, Tautology, Onomatopoeia, Alliteration, etc. but the one that stands out is Transferred Epithet. In the line 'Ten days and nights, with sleepless eye', the adjective 'sleepless' should be for the man and not for the eye.

The poem is a humorous one written for enjoyment, with plenty of funny expressions. The behaviour of the poet's servant on reading the poem makes us laugh. The main purpose of the poet is to simply entertain the reader.

Non-Textual Passage 1*(March '25)*

Q. 1. A Read the following passage and do the given activities : (10 Marks)

A1. Simple Factual Activity :(2)

Complete the following sentences with the help of the passage :

- (i) Rangoli is an
- (ii) remains the same in all the areas.
- (iii) The traditional material used for Rangoli is
- (iv) Nowadays is used for making Rangoli.

The term RANGOLI is derived from 'Rang' (colour) + 'aavalli' (row of colours). Rangoli is an age old traditional folk art done across India. The term rangoli refers to designs made with coloured powders on the ground in front of the house. In some parts of the country, the designs are done on walls and even on ceilings. The designs vary in different parts of India but the basic methodology remains the same in all the areas. The designs are mostly geometric and symmetrical, while some natural elements like flowers, birds, etc. may be included.

The rural and urban women of India have kept this art alive by passing the expertise down through the generations. These are decorative designs made on floors at the time of Hindu festivals.

Traditionally, such floor decorations were done only on auspicious occasions or festivals. But today they are done on any occasions like; wedding, birthday parties, opening ceremonies, etc. Different Indian states have different ways of Rangoli-painting and also have different names in their regional or local languages. For example :

Maharashtra	– Rangoli
Tamil Nadu	– Kolam
Uttar Pradesh	– Chowkpurna
Andhra Pradesh	– Mugullu

The traditional material used for rangoli is rice flour so as to offer food to the ants, the birds and the squirrels. Even coloured rice can be used for the purpose. It is pretty simple to get rice coloured with food colours readily available in the market.

Nowadays white stone powder is used for making Rangoli.

Sawdust can also be used to make Rangoli patterns; its advantage is that it floats on water; which can be utilised to create Floating Rangoli patterns.

However, we should follow only those that are backed by scientific data. We should not follow traditions that are based on superstitions. We should also be ready to change the traditions a little, based on the changes in society and the environment. For example, we should not immerse idols made of plaster of Paris in water bodies, as they are harmful to the fish.

B Summary Writing :

(5 Marks)

Read the given passage and write a summary of it in a paragraph. Suggest a suitable title.

Ans.

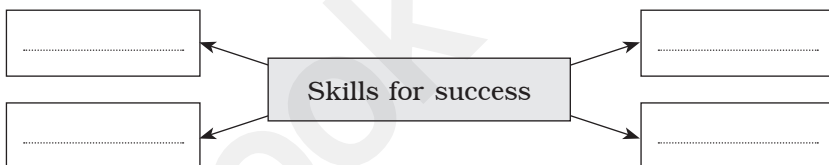

The Art of Rangoli

Rangoli is a traditional folk art that is very popular in India. Rangoli refers to designs made on the ground in front of the house, or even on walls and ceilings. The designs vary across the country but the basic methodology does not change. The art has been kept alive by the rural and urban women of India. Rangolis are drawn on auspicious occasions, festivals or celebrations. Rangoli is called by different names in the different states. Though the traditional material used is rice flour, other materials can also be used.

Non-Textual Passage 2

Q. 2. A Read the given following passage carefully and complete the activities :

A1. Complete the following web :

Continuing her remarks at the Eastern Kentucky University Commencement, First Lady Michelle Obama said :

And my first question is : Who are you going to be? And if you'll notice, I'm not asking what are you going to do, but who are you going to be? I'm asking you about how you plan to live your life every day. How are you going to respond when you don't get that job you had your heart set on?

For all of you who are going on to be teachers, what are you going to do if the students in your class next year just don't respond to your lessons? For all of you going into business, how will you react when your boss gives you a goal that feels way too high?

These are the moments that define us – not the day you get the promotion, not the day you win 'teacher of the year', but the times that force you to claw and scratch and fight just to get through the day; the moments when you get knocked down and you're wondering whether it's even worth it to get back up. Those are the times when you've got to ask yourself, who am I going to be?

And I want to be clear, this isn't just some vague platitude about building character. In recent years, we've actually been seeing a growing body of research that shows that skills like resilience and conscientiousness can be just as important to your success as your test scores, or even your IQ.

A2. Complete the following :

Michelle Obama's general questions about jobs and careers :

- (1) Who are you ?
- (2) failure in getting a desired job?

A3. Vocabulary :

- (i) Pick out from the given words a word that has 're-' as a prefix : respond, recent, react, resilience
- (ii) Explain : have your heart set on something

A4. Do as directed :

- (i) Pick out the nouns from the following words :
respond, business, promotion, vague, platitude, resilience
- (ii) Pick out and name the subordinate clause :
These are the moments that define us.

A5. Write about the career you have planned for yourself. Give one or two reasons for your choice.

Answers

A2.

Michelle Obama's general questions about jobs and careers :

- (1) Who are you going to be?
- (2) How are you going to respond to failure in getting a desired job?

A3. (i) 'React' is the word with 're' as prefix.

(ii) 'Have your heart set on something' means to want something very much, so much so that you would be very disappointed if you did not get it.

A4. (i) business, promotion, platitude, resilience

(ii) that define us – Adjective (Relative) clause

A5. I plan to become a teacher. Mummy often asks me to take up the studies of my younger sister Rani and I find that I quite like teaching. I also gather together some of the younger children in our locality every evening and help them with their lessons, while I teach Rani as well. I have the qualities of patience and consideration of individual needs, which are very important for a teaching career. Hence, I shall do my B.Ed. after graduation and become a teacher.

B Summary Writing :

Read the given passage and write a summary of it in a paragraph. Suggest a suitable title.

Ans. Skills Needed for Success

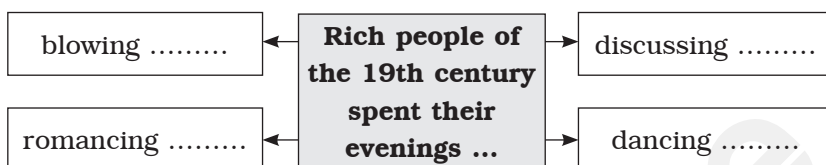

At Kentucky University, First Lady Michelle Obama asked the students who they were going to be. She spoke about their way of life and their response to not getting the jobs they craved. She asked what they would do if things did not happen the way they wanted or planned. Such moments, she said, define character – not moments of achievement or victory, but moments of failure and struggle. She said that recent research showed that resilience and sense of responsibility were as important for success as academic scores.

Non-Textual Passage 3

Q. 3. A Read the following passage carefully and complete the activities :

A1. Complete the web :

Rich people of the 19th century – as shown in cinema – spent their evenings in lounges and salons, dancing leisurely, blowing smoke rings, discussing arcane philosophical topics, or romancing well-dressed demure ladies. To be rich was to have leisure time. Others did their running around. Today, the rich man is the one with no time at all. Always hard-pressed and pre-occupied. Not only do they have their hands full, they make quite a show of it. Why? How did 'busyness' become the ultimate status-symbol of our times?

Unlike our agricultural and industrial ancestors who prided themselves on the luxury goods they owned and how little they worked, today the ultimate aspirational objects are the workers themselves, who, by bragging about how busy they are, can signal just how much the labour market values them and their skills.

How much value people place on 'busyness' also varies with culture. Americans, who do not even have the right to take paid holidays, place a premium on workaholism, while countries like Spain, Italy, Greece and France, which are more laidback despite being developed, value leisure more.

A2. Complete the table with the differences between the rich people of the 19th century and the rich people of today :

The rich people of the 19th century	The rich people of today
1. If you were rich, you had a lot of	1. If you are rich, you have no
2. They were very proud of	2. They boast about how busy they are, sending signals indicating

A3. Pick out the words from the passage which mean :

- (i) boasting
- (ii) modest and shy
- (iii) understood by few
- (iv) absorbed in thought

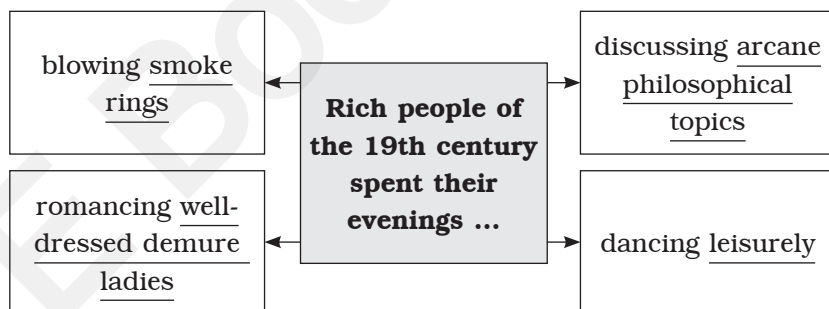

A4. Do as directed :

- (i) Americans place a premium on workaholism. (Frame a Wh-question to get the underlined word as the answer.)
- (ii) Today, the ultimate aspirational objects are the workers themselves. (Rewrite beginning 'Today, it is ...')

A5. Explain how you spend your leisure time.

Answers

A1.

A2.	The rich people of the 19th century	The rich people of today
	1. If you were rich, you had a lot of leisure time .	1. If you are rich, you have no time at all .
	2. They were very proud of the luxury goods they owned .	2. They boast about how busy they are, sending signals indicating how much the labour market values them and their skills .

- A3. (i) boasting – bragging
(ii) modest and shy – demure
(iii) understood by few – arcane
(iv) absorbed in thought – pre-occupied

A4. (i) What do Americans place a premium on?

(ii) Today, it is the workers themselves who are the ultimate aspirational objects.

A5. I spend my leisure by doing what I love most – reading. Every vacation, I join the library near my house and get books to read. I like mystery novels, and I find out which are the latest mystery novels from the net. I also like to play football, which I do in the evenings with the other children from my building.

B Summary Writing :

Read the passage given and write a summary of it in a paragraph. Suggest a suitable title.

Ans. The Concept of being 'Rich'

In the 19th century, to be rich was to have leisure time, while others did the running around. Today, the rich man has no time at all. And this 'busyness' has become a status symbol. In the past, people were proud of their luxury goods, and of how little they worked. Today, the rich boast about how busy they are, and how much the labour market values them and their skills. Of course, how much a person values his leisure also varies from culture to culture.

Non-Textual Passage 4

Q. 4. A Read the given passage carefully and complete the activities :

A1. Write if the following sentences are True or False :

- (i) The boy could lose his temper as much as 37 times a day.
- (ii) The father was anxious to change the ways of his son.
- (iii) Once the boy had controlled his temper, the father felt that there was no need for him to teach his son anything more.
- (iv) Angry words leave permanent scars.

There once was a little boy who had a very bad temper. After much thought, one day, the father handed him a bag of nails and told him that every time he lost his temper, he had to hammer a nail into the fence.

On the first day, the boy hammered 37 nails into that fence.

Gradually, the boy began to control his temper. Over the next few weeks, the number of nails he was hammering into the fence slowly decreased. The boy discovered it was easier to control his temper than to hammer those nails into the fence.

In the end, the boy found that he didn't lose his temper at all. With quiet pride he told this to his father. However, the father suggested that the boy should now pull out a nail for every day that he kept his temper under control.

The days passed and the young boy was finally able to tell his father that all the nails had been removed. The father then took his son by the hand and led him to the fence.

"You have done well, my son, but look at the holes in the fence. The fence will never be the same. When you say things in anger, they leave a scar just like this one. You can put a knife in a man and draw it out. It won't matter how many times you say 'I'm sorry', the wound will always remain."

The boy realized that saying things in the heat of the moment would only result in later regret. There are some things in life that we are unable to take back.

Glossary : lose one's temper – to get very angry. gradually – slowly, over a period of time. scar – a sign of damage to a person's mental state. regret – a feeling of sadness about something sad or wrong or about a mistake that you have made, and a wish that it could have been different and better.

A2. Complete the following :

- (i) The boy discovered that it was easier to than to
- (ii) Things that we say only result in

A3. Write from the passage words that mean :

- (i) slowly
- (ii) a mark or a sign of damage.

A4. Rewrite using the direct form of narration :

The father suggested that the boy should now pull out a nail for every day that he kept his temper under control.

A5. Perhaps you too lose your temper now and again. What do you do to control yourself?

Answers

- A1. (i) The boy could lose his temper as much as 37 times a day. – True
- (ii) The father was anxious to change the ways of his son. – True
- (iii) Once the boy had controlled his temper, the father felt that there was no need for him to teach his son anything more. – False

- (ii) a mark or sign of damage – scar
- A4. The father said, “You should now pull out a nail for every day that you keep your temper under control.”
- A5. Yes, I do lose my temper now and again. Sometimes I run off to some quiet place and sit and think. At other times I prefer to take a cold shower and cool off. Once I even ran around our building four or five times to eliminate the anger.

B Summary Writing :

Read the given passage and write a summary of it. Suggest a suitable title.

Ans. Angry words leave permanent scars

A man gave his son, who had a bad temper, a bag of nails. He told the boy to hammer the nails into the fence every time he got angry. On the first day the boy hammered 37 nails into the fence. Gradually the number of nails kept reducing, till his temper was completely in control. The boy proudly told his father this. The father told his son to remove the nails every time he controlled his anger. Days passed and the boy told his father that all the nails were removed. The father praised his son, but pointed out that the holes were still visible. In the same way, things said in anger leave permanent scars.

FORMAL & INFORMAL LETTERS

(Total : 5 Marks)

Note : In the Activity Sheet, common guidelines will be given for both the letters (formal and informal) in the form of ads, webs, leaflets, news reports/headlines or other pictorial information. You will have to study the topic or issue on which you have to write any one letter (formal or informal) carefully. The block format must be used while writing the letter. In this format all the components of the letter are aligned to the left margin of the page. The body of the letter is single spaced but paragraphs are separated by double line space. (While writing on ruled paper, a line can be left between paragraphs to indicate the beginning of a new paragraph.) Write the names and addresses given in the Activity Sheet instead of ABC, XYZ, etc.

How to attempt Formal/Business/Official Letters :

- (1) This question involves writing letters to officials, editors of newspapers, heads of commercial or educational establishments, etc.
- (2) Two addresses are required for this type of letter : One is your own and the other is the address of the person you are writing to.
- (3) The 'Subject' of the letter, that is, the main topic of the letter, must be written in brief. If you have referred to something, e.g. an advertisement in a newspaper, this must be written below the 'Subject' as 'Reference'.
- (4) The salutation has to be very formal, e.g. Sir/Madam, Dear Sir/Madam, Respected Sir/Madam, etc.
- (5) The language and tone used for such letters must be very formal, to-the-point and respectful.
- (6) The main body of the letter should consist of two – three paragraphs giving details or asking for information – as briefly as possible.
- (7) End off with respectful subscriptions such as 'Yours faithfully', 'Yours sincerely', 'Yours truly', etc.
- (8) Webs, news items, ads, parts of letters or some other kind of information will be given for guidance. Read them carefully and use them to write the letter. You may add one or two points of your own.

General Format and Marking Scheme for a Formal Letter :

- | | | | |
|---|---|-----------------|-----------------|
| (1) Sender's Address | } | ← _____ | 1/2 mark |
| (2) Pin Code | | | |

| (10) Your name | | | |
| • Correct use of grammar | ← | 1 mark | |

How to attempt Informal/Personal/Friendly Letters :

- (1) This question involves writing letters to friends, relatives or acquaintances.
- (2) For this question, you have to give only your address, the date and the salutation (My dear ..., Dear ..., etc.).
- (3) The language used for such letters is casual, informal and friendly.
- (4) Study the topic or issue on which you have to write the letter carefully. You will be given ads, webs, news lines or some pictorial information as guidelines.
- (5) Write about two or three paragraphs giving the required information.
- (6) Finish off with the subscription – 'Your loving', 'Yours affectionately', etc.

General Format and Marking Scheme for an Informal Letter :

Respected Sir,

We are celebrating Dr A.P.J. Abdul Kalam's Birth Anniversary on October 15th as 'Reading Inspiration Day' in our school.

On behalf of the Literary Club of our school, I would like to invite you to grace the occasion as Chief Guest and address the students of Std. IX and Std. X on the benefits of reading, so that they are inspired to read. A brief survey done at our school revealed that barely 10% of the students read books unrelated to the school syllabus. This was indeed a shocking discovery.

The function will begin at 10 a.m. and conclude at 12 noon. This will be followed by a discussion and lunch. Our Headmaster and senior teachers too will be present for the function. We will be honoured if you accept our invite. We really admire you for your work in the field of education.

Hoping for a positive reply.

Thanking you,

Yours faithfully,

My dear Nitu,

How are you? Still glued to the TV as before? Nitu, you must develop the habit of reading. Let me tell you again about the advantages.

Reading increases our knowledge and keeps us updated about what is happening in the world around us. It gives us information about places which we are never likely to visit. It develops our vocabulary and powers of expression. It is an ideal way to keep ourselves occupied, even on a gloomy rainy day. Yes, there is no doubt about it—the advantages of reading are manifold.

To preserve and encourage this reading culture, our school has invited Mr Anil Tripathi, the renowned educationist, to address students on Reading Inspiration Day (Oct. 15). This is also Dr A. P. J. Abdul Kalam's Birth Anniversary.

So, Nitu, develop the habit of reading. It is one which will never let you down. Let me know if I have been successful in my efforts of detaching you from the TV and making you read! Bye for now.

Subject : Role of sports and games in a student's life

Sir,

I just read an old newspaper report 'Hima Das wins five gold medals'. I was highly impressed by this, and I wish there were more youngsters like her.

Sports and games are very important in life and teach us many essential values like team work, sportsmanship, humility, etc. They help us to reduce stress and mental exhaustion and make us capable of hard work. They improve blood circulation all through the body, thus improving the physical and mental well-being of a person. They make a person more capable with a high level of efficiency. Today, more than ever before, we need the help of sports to make our lives successful.

However, many students are not aware of all these benefits. I earnestly request your newspaper to create awareness about the role of sports and games in a student's life. This will greatly benefit society.

Dear Sir/Madam,

Thirty-three students of our school, studying in Std. X, wish to visit the Nagzira Sanctuary. We have a great interest in wildlife and their habitat. We would like to visit the sanctuary sometime in the first week of October. We are planning a two-day visit and will make arrangements for our stay with a local school there.

We would like to have the following information regarding our visit :

- (i) Do we need to apply for special permission to visit the Sanctuary?
- (ii) Are there any special rules and regulations that we need to follow while on our visit?
- (iii) Is there any arrangement for a staff member of the Sanctuary or a guide to show us around?

If you have a brochure giving detailed information regarding our queries, we would be very grateful if you could send it to the above address.

Kindly let us know at your earliest if our visit will be convenient.

Subject : Dangers posed by reckless driving

Sir,

I am sure you are aware of the increase in the number of accidents in our city due to the menace of reckless driving. There has been a 7% increase in accidents this year. Two-wheeler riders are not only the cause but also the worst-affected.

Sir, I have noticed that at key junction areas, very often there are no traffic police. Also many of the traffic signals at crucial busy spots are not in operation. As a result, there is complete disorder in the flow of traffic. Vehicles criss-cross each other and cause traffic jams.

Two-wheeler riders slip through lines, take the wrong lane and catch drivers keeping their proper lanes by surprise. This has led to one or two serious accidents, which have been reported in the papers.

I request you to take cognizance of these matters and to remedy the situation at your earliest. This is in the interest of the safety of the citizens of Solapur.

Dear Mrinal,

David has written to say that you have purchased a new motorbike. Congratulations! Yes I am pleased about it, but am a bit worried too. It seems that you haven't yet learnt to ride properly, but are still riding on the highway.

Mrinal, it does not pay to be reckless. Do you want to end up in a hospital? With a fractured leg or dislocated joints? Or even worse? It seems you ignore signals and do a lot of overtaking. Why are you being so rash? I can understand your excitement at owning a new toy. But please, do not forget that you have a responsibility to yourself and to others. I get nightmares just thinking of you riding recklessly on the busy highway.

Please slow down. Control your impulse for adventure. You have a lifetime ahead of you. Don't throw it away. I do hope you heed my words. I only want you to be safe.

Subject : Effects of online games on children

Sir,

I just read a newspaper report about the addiction of young children to online games and their obsession with the virtual world.

This is certainly true. If we observe carefully, we will notice that children today are constantly playing online games. They are wasting a lot of time on this activity and this affects their other creative activities and abilities. There is a real fear that they will get addicted to this pastime and lose their sense of reality. What is even more worrying is that many of these games are violent and make children very aggressive.

I sincerely request you to spread awareness through your newspaper about this addiction to online games and its effects on children and society. All of us need to actively do something about this problem and resolve it as soon as possible. I am sure you will heed my plea.

Dear Purvi,

Hi! How are you? Whenever I think of you, the picture in my mind is of you playing online games with great concentration! Are you still doing it?

I ask this question because I just read a newspaper report about the addiction of young children to online games and their obsession with the virtual world.

The report said that children today are constantly playing online games. They are wasting a lot of time on this activity and this affects their other creative activities and abilities. There is real fear that they will get addicted to this pastime and lose their sense of reality. What is even more worrying is that many of these games are violent and make children very aggressive.

If you are still playing the games as before, I sincerely request you to stop this habit. Your mom says that you are no longer very interested in your singing and guitar practice. Please, Purvi, stop these useless online games and your preoccupation with the virtual world! I'm sure your parents too think like I do.

Bye for now. And do take my words seriously.

Your loving friend,
Harsha

Soil erosion, a major environmental hazard today is caused by both natural and man-made factors. Soil erosion is caused by unobstructed overflow and the flow of running water which carry away the topmost layer of the soil. Forest fires which destroy the roots of the plants which bind the soil together and lead to erosion.

The effects of soil erosion are flood, drought, etc. As the vital nutrients of soil get wasted away, the soil turns barren. Soil erosion can be prevented by construction of dams, bunds, etc. Afforestation helps to prevent soil erosion as tree holds the soil together with their roots. Improved method of agriculture such as contour ploughing also help checking soil erosion.

Sugar beet grows through the summer and is harvested in autumn and winter. When it arrives on site, the sugar beet is washed. The sugar beet is sliced into thin strips called cossettes.

These thin strips are mixed with hot water to extract the sugar and a lime solution is added to the raw juice to remove any impurities.

The syrup is filtered, heated and seeded with tiny sugar crystals, which grow into the required size. The sugar crystals are then washed, dried and cooled.

Sugar is delivered to our customers in a variety of formats for both industrial and retail markets.

Annual Water Usage in Maharashtra

Water is life. It is a universal solvent and an important resource. The annual usage of water differs in various sectors of Maharashtra. The major occupation of Maharashtra being agriculture, the maximum amount of available water is used for irrigation, that is 86%. The distant following place 7% is contributed by the domestic sector, which includes drinking, washing, cooking, etc. There is a close competition of other sectors with 6% usage of water. One of the key factors which plays an important role in the development of a nation is the industrial sector. The consumption of water by the industrial sector is very negligible, which is 1%.

We know the energy sector plays a vital role in the development of a nation. In this sector, the use of water is almost nil. If we try to observe its place in the chart we realise that it holds 0% usage and is yet to open its account.

The Keys to Success

It is natural for students to want success in life. However, this depends on certain mental and physical qualities. Students must know how to manage time effectively, giving enough time for studies, games, hobbies, etc. They must have discipline, which will keep them focused. This is followed by will power and determination. Students have to learn from their mistakes and persevere even in the face of failure.

Success is 99% perspiration and 1% inspiration. To gain success, students have to put in plenty of hard work and be tenacious, continuing even when the going gets difficult. There must, however, be a strong inner desire to learn and to excel, along with concrete goals and ambitions. Last but not the least, good physical and emotional health is essential. Hence, students must look after their bodies as well as their minds. These are the keys to success.

(2) Read the following tree-diagram and prepare a short paragraph on 'Soil Erosion'.

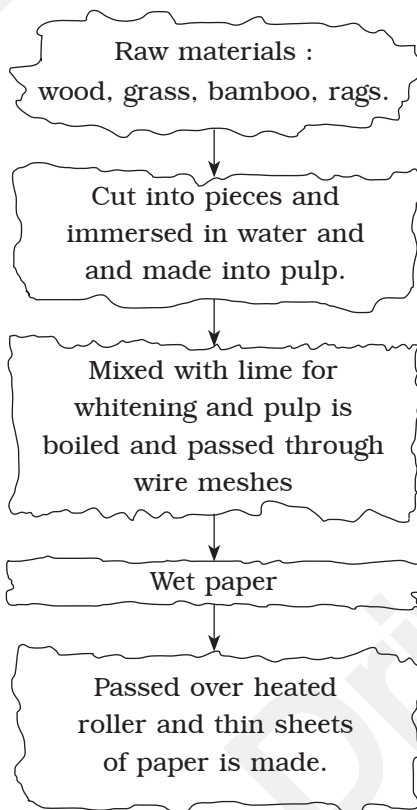

Ans.

Soil Erosion

Soil erosion means wearing away of the land's precious topsoil. Soil erosion can be due to natural agents, like air, water or fire. The cause can also be man-made as when there is excessive cultivation of land by farmers. The effects of soil erosion are dangerous and life-threatening. On the one hand it can result in floods which may result in the death of many people, and on the other hand it can lead to barren lands. To avoid disasters like floods and droughts, we must make an attempt to prevent soil erosion. We can do this by building dams at appropriate places and by practising contour farming. However, there are many preventive and remedial practices that can curtail or limit the erosion of vulnerable soils.

(3) Given below is the process of manufacturing paper. Transfer the given information into a paragraph :

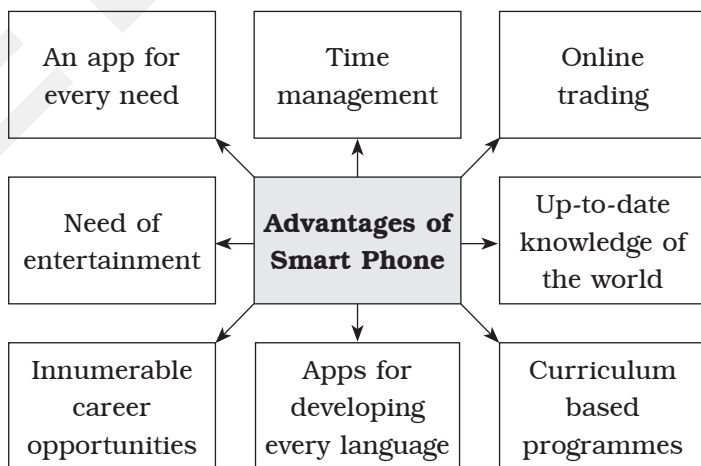

Ans.

Manufacture of Paper

For manufacturing paper, the raw materials needed are wood, grass, bamboo and rags. These are cut into small pieces and immersed in water. They are then converted into pulp. Later, the pulp is mixed with lime for whitening and passed through wire meshes, where it gets transformed into paper. This wet paper is passed over heated rollers and we finally get the thin sheets of paper which we normally use.

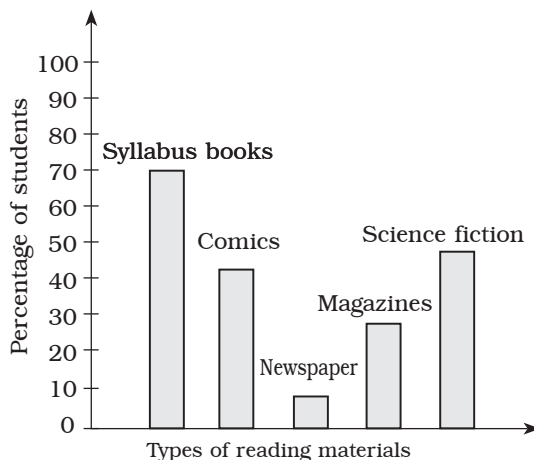

(4) Read the following web diagram and transform it into a paragraph. Give a suitable title :

Ans. Advantages of the Smart Phone

The Smart Phone, as we know it today, is indeed a SMART phone. It has an app for practically every need of the modern man. The in-built clock with its different features helps in time management. Then, there are apps for developing most languages, thus making foreign travel easier. The Smart Phone can acquaint job seekers with the innumerable career opportunities available to them. While the need for entertainment is fully satisfied by this phone with its various downloads, the knowledge of curriculum-based programmes too is available with a tap of the finger. Online trading, which Smart Phones offer, is a welcome facility. With its news clips and online newspapers, the phone provides us with up-to-date knowledge of the world. Thus, this phone has plenty of advantages and is certainly a boon to society.

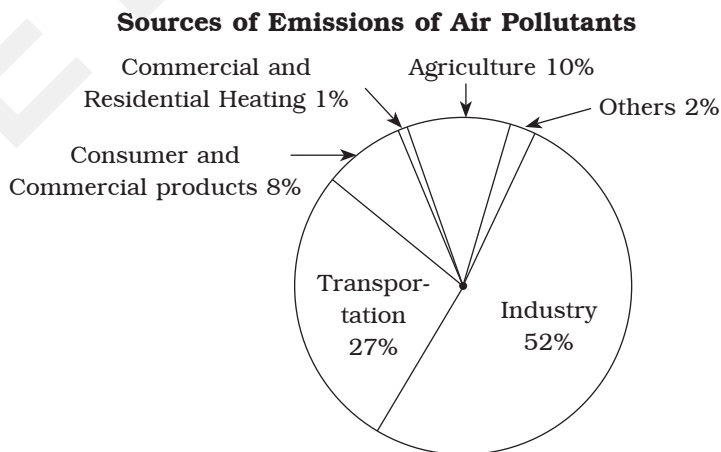

(5) Observe the following bar-graph, which shows the results of a survey of the reading habits of the students studying in schools. Write a paragraph and suggest a suitable title :

Ans. Reading Habits of School Students

The results of a survey of the reading habits of the students studying in schools was revealing. A large majority, 70% read syllabus books. This is natural seeing the stress laid on academics in our society. Surprisingly, a good 50% of students read science fiction books. This interest in science fiction is encouraging. 45% still read comics, showing that illustrations along with the written word still carries a lot of importance. 30% read magazines, though the type of magazines they read is not clear. Only a meagre 10% read newspapers; it is to be hoped that they got information about the happenings round the country and the world from TV and the Internet. Students should be encouraged to read more and to keep themselves well informed.

(6) Study the following pie-diagram and write a paragraph based on the information given in it :

Ans. Sources of Emissions of Air Pollutants

From a quick look at the pie-diagram, we realize the well-known but shocking fact that Industry is largely responsible for the emission of air pollutants. The pie-chart places the figure at 52%. Second on the list is transportation. This accounts for 27% of toxic gases sent out into the air. Surprisingly, agriculture is responsible for 10% of air pollutants. This may be because of fertilizer sprays and aerial sprays of chemicals such as pesticides and weedicides. Consumer and commercial products are responsible for 8% of air pollution. Commercial and residential heating causes a negligible 1% of air pollution. Other factors account for a nominal 2% of air pollution.

- (2) Also attempt the Questions for Practice given in Section 3.

(1) Prepare a speech to be delivered on 'World Energy Day' on the topic 'Go Solar'. (March '25)

Use the following points :

- No energy crisis
- Economical
- Saves on electricity bills
- Celebrated on 22nd October
- Conserves natural resources

Ans.

Go Solar

Respected Principal, teachers and my dear friends,

Good morning. Today, October 22nd, is World Energy Day and on this special day I, XYZ, will speak on the topic 'Go Solar'.

A large part of India lies in the tropical zone and gets plenty of sunlight throughout the year. This means that we have a renewable source of energy, solar energy, right at our doorstep. Then why do we hesitate to use it more? It is free, renewable, and reduces pollution. It conserves our natural resources.

Solar energy is a clean and green source of energy. It does not emit any pollutants into the air. Once solar panels are installed, they last for years, making the whole project quite economical. Only an initial investment is necessary. To add to that, electricity bills are substantially reduced. Subsidies and incentives by the government only make it more attractive. We will not have any energy crisis.

So, we, in India, should wake up and grab the opportunity to use a 'freebie' — solar energy. Even as I conclude my speech, we can see the sun god smiling down on us!

Thank you.

(2) Prepare a speech to be delivered in an inter school competition. The subject given to you is 'Importance of Festivals in Indian Culture'. Use the following points.

- Testimony to our diverse tradition and culture
- An environment of cultural harmony
- Celebration irrespective of religion and caste
- Forgetting enmity; forging bond of love
- Moral, ethical, social values of life; entertainment

Ans. 'Importance of Festivals in Indian Culture'

Honourable Judges, Respected Teachers and Dear Friends,

Good morning, I, Kushal Khanna, would like to say few words on 'Importance of Festivals in Indian Culture'. A festival is an auspicious day or period of religious or other celebration prevalent in all societies and religious communities. Festivals play an important role in our life. It is said that India is a rich country with a varied culture and religious festivals play a very important role in Indian culture.

We celebrate festivals to keep alive the cultural heritage of our nation. A festival helps us to embrace one another in a bond of love. It is during festivals that people exchange gifts, celebrate events together and enjoy the time spent in the company of each other. National level festivals help to promote patriotic spirit and solidarity in society. Thus, festivals keep us together and are a symbol of our customs and traditions.

More than their entertainment value, festivals reinforce values like love, brotherhood, sacrifice and the victory of good over evil.

So let us all join hands and make life a celebration. Should we not celebrate festivals to spread happiness and make our relations strong forever? Enjoy festivals and bring to life a state of exuberance and enthusiasm.

Thank you!

(3) Prepare a speech to be delivered in the school assembly on 'Science and Spirituality go hand in hand'. Use the following points :

- Can work together
- Can explain lot of things of life.
- Gives scope for reasoning and thinking.
- Can give scope for intelligence and creativity.
- Can make more and more discoveries.

Ans. Science and Spirituality go hand in hand

Respected Principal, teachers and my dear friends,

I wish you all a very good morning and a hearty welcome. I am happy that I, XYZ, have been given the privilege of starting the Science Day programme with a speech. The topic of my speech is : 'Science and spirituality go hand in hand'.

No doubt, this is a difficult concept to understand, for we have always been given to believe that they are mutually exclusive. However, that is not so. There is no contradiction between the two. Both genuinely seek the truth. Science explores the truth about the body and physical world. Spirituality introspects on the nature of 'self' and its relationship with the outer world. Science helps us understand the physical structure of the universe, while spirituality deals with human existence, values and morals. Both complement each other. Both are two sides of the same coin. Both require mental discipline. Science is the body. Spirituality is the mind. One explores the external world; the other delves into the internal sphere. Their harmonious co-existence contributes to the well-being of humankind.

Thank you all for listening to me attentively. I hope most of you agree with my views on the topic. I end my speech with a very suitable quote from none other than Albert Einstein : 'Science without religion is lame; religion without science is blind'.

Thank you once again.

(4) Prepare a speech on 'Conservation of Water'. You may use the following points :

- need for conservation
- methods of conservation
- future plans to increase water resources

Ans.

Save Every Drop

Respected teachers and my dear friends,

Today, our school is celebrating 'Environment Day', and on this occasion I, XYZ, would like to say a few words about the conservation of water, which is the need of the day.

Water is the basis of life. Without water, there can be no life. However, we cannot use this resource irresponsibly; we need to conserve it so that everyone has enough for his or her needs. The methods of conservation can be artificial, like building dams and bunds. It can also be by eco-friendly means. The water table can be improved; rain-water harvesting can be done. Trees attract rain clouds and the roots of the trees help to hold water. Hence, more trees should be planted especially on the banks of rivers and lakes, and the sides of mountains and hills. Afforestation should be initiated wherever there is a lack of trees.

At a personal level, each of us can help to conserve water by using it judiciously. Instead of taking long showers, we can use a bucket for bathing. Taps should be turned off while brushing teeth, washing vessels, clothes, etc. and water should not be allowed to flow unnecessarily down the drain. Water can be recycled and used in the toilets and for watering plants.

Finally, I will end my speech by repeating that one of the best and easiest methods to increase water resources is by planting more trees.

Thank you.

(5) Write a speech acquainting your class about the environment crisis that is worsening around the world.

Use the following points :

- environment in the past
- our environment today
- pollution problems
- steps to be taken

Ans.

The Environment Crisis

Dear friends,

Good morning. Today is 'Environment Day', and on this important day, I would like to say something about the 'Environment Crisis'. In the past our environment was the way God intended it to be. It was green and clean and pristine and fresh. Our forests were thick with trees. Birds, animals and insects co-existed there in millions.

Just take a look at the surroundings today. You will see concrete jungles and tall skyscrapers hiding the natural scenery, if there is any scenery left to see at all! Almost 11 billion trees are being cut down every year. Roads and parks are littered with different kinds of waste. Plastic is the king. There is hardly any sphere of our lives where we do not use plastic. And then we throw it away as waste to pollute the environment! Vehicles and industries have made the air we breathe unclean.

The amount of pollution is on the rise. What kind of a future can we look forward to? A life of impure air, a host of lung diseases, epidemics and unheard of ailments? No trees? No mountains? No hills? Only desert wastelands that we ourselves have created?

What can we as students do? We have to take urgent steps to make people aware of how dangerous the environment crisis is. We have to think and come up with innumerable ways of saving our Mother Planet. We have to do everything in our power to conserve our forests, to conserve the landscape, to manage waste effectively, to keep our earth as natural as Mother Nature intended it to be!

For a better environment and to save our world, let us all work as one! Save our Planet! Save humanity!

Thank you.

(1) Write your counterviews on 'Benefits of a joint family'.

(March '25)

Viewpoints :

- Equal distribution of work
- Moral values are preserved
- Good bond between siblings
- Respect for elders.

Ans.

Perils of a Joint Family

Living in a joint family can be a boon or a bane. Those who watch soap operas or mushy films glorifying the joint family think of it as a boon. Only those who have lived in one know the pitfalls.

In a joint family, the work is certainly not equally distributed. The smart ones escape all the chores, leaving the not-so-smart, naive members to shoulder the entire burden. This leads to immense strife within the family, very often beneath the facade of happiness. As for moral values being preserved—well, if one wants to have sound values one can do so anywhere, even if one is entirely alone. There is no need to have numerous family members surrounding one. The same goes for having respect for elders and bonding between cousins. More often than not, there is jealousy and bitter rivalry. Besides, doesn't familiarity breed contempt? There is no privacy in a joint family. Living closely in the same house may lead to annoyance and irritation with each other. Hence, it is better to stay happy and content—on one's own, in a nuclear family, and leave the joys of the joint family to TV serials.

(2) Write your counterview in a paragraph on the following views :

'Social networking sites are not a necessity'

(July '23; March '24)

Views :

- There are other ways of connecting and staying in touch.
- People may resort to dishonesty.
- Cyber crimes are on the rise.
- Vital personal information may be misused.

Ans.

Social Networking Sites – a Boon

We have to accept the fact that we live in a fast world today.

Everybody is in a hurry. The days when we had to wait for the postman to bring us a letter are in the distant past. It is a busy world, and social networking helps us to keep in touch with friends instantly, even those with whom we had lost contact. This was evident during the recent Covid epidemic, when these very sites helped us tremendously. Yes, people may resort to dishonesty and cheating. Privacy is an issue, and cyber crimes are unfortunately on the rise. The criminals may use vital personal information against us. However, isn't cheating prevalent in any area, and isn't it up to us to be careful? Just like we have learnt to be careful while opening the door of our home, so too we have to be careful about the way we use these sites. Social networking sites are certainly a necessity – to be used prudently and with care.

(2) Write your counterview on the topic : 'Deforestation is essential for the progress of mankind' on the basis of the views given below.

View : Deforestation is essential for the progress of mankind

- Rising population
- Wildlife affected
- Global warming
- Flora and fauna endangered

Ans. Deforestation? Certainly Not!

Human beings are said to have superior brains, but after reading the statement given above, I seriously begin to doubt this. Deforestation and progress? These two words just do not go together. We must not give the excuse of rising population; if the population is increasing, steps must be taken to control it, and not hack our forests to provide for the coming generations. Deforestation will harm wildlife. The food cycle will be affected by the disappearance of many species. Many types of plants existing only in forests will disappear. Deforestation will also contribute to global warming. Effects are already being felt, as is apparent by the increasing amounts of rain and floods. The effects may not be seen immediately; but the coming generations will certainly feel the heat. Ultimately, by cutting down forests, are we progressing or regressing? I think the latter.

(3) Write your counterview on 'Old persons are burden to society' view :

- Their experience
- Their support and guidance
- Their role
- Their value
- Their knowledge

Ans. Old persons are NOT a burden to society

In today's materialistic society, there is a general feeling that old people are a burden to society. However, it has been found that after retirement if elders are re-employed, they are more dedicated and take pains to do more work than youngsters. The youth may think that they know everything and the senior citizens do not know anything, but with their type of experience we can learn a lot of things from them. The wisdom in an old head is worth all the treasures of the world. The elderly can share their expertise with the younger generation. Becoming old is a cyclic change which everyone has to pass through. Hence at the time when old people require the help of youngsters, one should always help them. They can in turn help the younger generation by giving them ideas from their experiences on how to bring up their family. Thus their role of a guide, caretaker and supporter is very valuable. They might be capable of giving us a sense of direction to our aims; they are the guardians of tradition and family structures.

(4) Write your counterview on the topic 'Internet will soon replace books' :

Points :

- easily accessible
- time saving
- economical
- authentic
- storehouse of information

Ans. The Internet Versus Books

Today, there is a lot of talk about the internet replacing books. I beg to differ. This is not possible.

The internet is certainly easily accessible – to those fortunate enough to live in cities. In a vast country like India, where lakhs of people do not have electric connections, the very thought of the internet replacing books is laughable. Besides, it is a well-known fact that easily accessible things are generally not very valuable!

Yes, the internet may save time, but at what cost? Continuous exposure to the computer screen affects our eyes and our health. Is it really worth it? The internet provides ready information, no doubt, but this also means that it does not allow the imagination of the reader to grow. It retards creativity. It makes research seem unnecessary. It is economical, but how authentic are some of the inputs? How much of what is given on the internet is verified? It is true that it is a storehouse of information, but much of it is repetitive and unverified. Besides, books have a feel and smell that can never be replaced by e-books. No, the internet can supplement books but can never replace books.

(5) Write your counterview on the topic : ‘Skyscrapers – the bane of Mumbai’, on the basis of the views given below. Add your own points :

View :

Skyscrapers are a nuisance

- Block the skyline
- Harm the environment
- No proper planning
- Increase urban population.

(Add more details and write a paragraph.)

Ans. Skyscrapers – A Necessary Evil

In my view, skyscrapers are a must in order to accommodate the rising growth of population in developed and developing cities.

Mumbai is no exception. However, this will affect the skyline. If there is proper planning by civic officials, the construction of skyscrapers will be accompanied by the establishment of parks, playgrounds, lakes, ponds and green areas. Take a look at high-tech cities around the world like Singapore, Kuala Lumpur and Tokyo in the east and New York, Washington D.C., Paris and London in the west. These cities are dotted with skyscrapers, yet have plenty of green areas, natural sanctuaries, fish aquariums, bird parks and greenery everywhere. If there is sensible planning, the construction of skyscrapers will only change the venue of the natural habitat of birds and animals, but will not affect their vital presence in the vicinity.

- (1) Study ALL the questions in this Question Set carefully.
- (2) Also attempt the Questions for Practice given in Section 3.

(1) Expand the following proverb into a paragraph of 100 words : 'Nothing will work unless you do'. (March '25)

Ans. Nothing will work unless you do

It is said that success is 99% perspiration and only 1% inspiration. This means that unless you work, unless you really put in hard work, nothing else will work. There is no use just waiting for an opportunity or for good luck. One must go out and find opportunities; one has to make one's own good luck.

In this instance, the example of Marie Curie is apt. Her discovery of Radium was not just by chance; she worked hard at finding it. Sachin Tendulkar practised for hours before he became the legend he is today. We only have to watch movie and TV stars rehearsing diligently and sincerely to know that it is only hard work that matters; other things will follow automatically. There is no point in just having big dreams and lofty ambitions; one must have the grit and will power to work towards their attainment. Failures have to be faced bravely and overcome. Only when we work hard will things work for us.

(2) Expand the given proverb into a paragraph of about 100 words : 'A Bad Workman Blames his Tools'.

Ans. A Bad Workman Blames his Tools

When a workman does not have the skills for a particular job, or does not use his skills in the right way, he fails. He then blames the tools that he has, saying that the tools were faulty, hence he has failed. He does not accept his shortcomings or take the responsibility for his failure.

This is applicable in all spheres of life. A person who is really talented and good at his job will know how to use the opportunities at his disposal. Even if these opportunities are not very good, he makes the best use of them and succeeds. On the other hand, a person who is not talented or is lazy, does not use the opportunities provided to him, however good they are, and then fails. He conveniently finds someone or something to blame for his failure. He does not want to admit that it is he himself who is at fault.

It does not matter what 'tools' we have; what matters is the way we use them; the use we make of our opportunities. For doesn't everyone know that a 'bad dancer blames the floor'?

(3) Expand the given quote into a paragraph of about 100 words :

'Education is the most powerful weapon to change the World'.

Ans. Education – A Powerful Weapon

‘Education’ is a word with a depth of meaning. ‘Education’ does not mean only learning to read and write. It does not mean only gaining knowledge. It also means developing different skills to live a positive life. It means developing emotional awareness of the people and things around one.

Education is essential for the progress of human beings. It helps an individual to develop to the best of his or her ability. It is like a huge umbrella under which a person learns all types of physical, social and emotional skills and values. Education teaches us the ways of people living in different parts of the world and helps us to develop empathy and understanding. It helps us to have opinions about important matters and be able to express these opinions in a suitable way. Through proper education, we can eradicate social ills like poverty, gender inequality, caste and communal bias and intolerance. In a world torn by wars, a good education will instill tolerance and empathy. Thus, a good education is essential for every human to live a successful life. It is the most powerful weapon to change the world.

(4) Expand the following idea in about 80 – 100 words :

‘Perseverance is the Key to Success’.

Ans. Perseverance is the Key to Success

The city of Rome, like all great works, was built over many years of hard work. It took Ronald Ross almost 18 years to find out how the malarial parasite entered the body of the human being. William Harvey took 12 years to find out how blood circulated in the body. It took Konrad Zuse 3 years to build the world’s first programme-based computer.

It takes one year of continuous and hard study to do well in the examination. Students who come in the merit list in the SSC examination study for long hours every day. If you want to be good at any sport or to play a musical instrument well, you have to practise for hours. Then only will you be able to impress people with your skill. So always remember, in order to achieve something great you have to persevere for a long period of time. Thus the proverb implies that we should not expect to achieve something great in a short period of time. Perseverance is the key to success.

(5) Expand the theme :

'Nature – The Best Teacher' in about 80 – 100 words :

Ans. Nature – The Best Teacher

Nature is a great teacher. When we observe nature carefully, we learn many things. We learn that every action has a reaction. If we cut trees indiscriminately, we suffer from disasters like droughts, floods, etc. If we take care of nature, nature will also look after us.

Nature teaches us how to be patient and wait for the fruits of what we have sown. The trees that stand patiently all through the year teach us selflessness. They teach us to give rather than receive. By observing animals, we learn how to live together and help each other; we learn that each and every animal is important in the food chain, and the disappearance of even one can cause problems. Each plant is different with different requirements; so also each human being is different and has his or her own needs and capabilities. Nature teaches us to obey the laws of the changing seasons and adjust accordingly.

The most important teaching that Nature has at present given us is not to fool around with her but to respect her.

(6) Expand the following idea in about 80 – 100 words :

'As you Sow, so shall you Reap'.

Ans. As You Sow, So Shall You Reap

If a farmer desires to reap a harvest of wheat, he sows wheat; if he wants rice, he sows rice. What should we think of him if he planted wheat and expected to harvest rice; or the other way round? The law of nature tells us that we must sow what we wish to reap. If we sow nothing, we shall reap nothing.

So it is with life. We have always to bear the consequences of our actions. If we perform good deeds, we shall be rewarded with good.

If we perform bad deeds, we shall never enjoy peace of mind. Our lives will be wretched and miserable. We cannot achieve fair ends by using foul means. Even if we do, it will be short-lived.

Man can decide his own future by his present deeds. If he sows the seeds of vice, corruption and sin, he reaps the harvest of misery and ruin. If he plants virtue, purity and goodness, he plucks the golden fruit of success and happiness. If we want to achieve good, we should do good, for as we sow, so shall we reap.

(7) Expand the following idea into two or three paragraphs (80 – 100 words) :

‘Handsome is as Handsome Does’.

Ans. Handsome is as Handsome Does

This is a well-known proverb which tells us not to judge a person by his or her appearance but by their deeds. Everyone is impressed by a good-looking person. This is only temporary, for the person may not behave as charmingly as his or her looks seem to indicate.

In the long run, the actions of a person make him or her more attractive than the looks. People like Abraham Lincoln, Mahatma Gandhi or Mother Teresa did not have very striking or impressive looks. But who will ever forget them? They will be remembered for eternity as people who had an inner glow and whose deeds helped the world. They glow with an inner light.

In fact, very often we find that good-looking people can be quite rude and selfish, and we are surprised and troubled by this, for we expect a handsome or beautiful person to behave in a positive manner. On the other hand, a person with ordinary looks can be a gem. Hence, we should never judge a person by his or her looks but by their deeds.

Ans. Dengue Fever Claims 10 Lives in Dhule

– By a News Reporter

March 6, Dhule : Much to the dismay of the Health Department and the Municipal Corporation of Dhule, the dengue epidemic in the city shows no signs of abating. In fact, fatalities have already risen to 10 and the hospitals are bursting with new cases.

"We are doing our best to take all precautions," said Keshav Patil, an official in the Health Department. "Dengue fever is a viral infection transmitted to humans through the bite of a mosquito. Hence, eradication of mosquitoes is the first thing that has to be done. We spray pesticide and fumigate wherever possible. In addition, we try to eliminate mosquito breeding sites like stagnant water bodies. People need to protect themselves suitably, by using mosquito repellent and covering themselves fully while going out. We are distributing pamphlets to educate the public about dengue." The health department has started a rigorous awareness campaign to stop the spread of the disease and also set up helpline numbers. "Anyone showing symptoms of dengue must visit a doctor immediately," concluded Mr Patil.

(2) Prepare a news report based on the following :

'Child labourers rescued from stone quarries'.

Ans. 'Child labourers rescued from stone quarries'

– By a News Reporter

March 6, New Delhi : In a shocking incident, 14 child labourers were rescued from three stone quarries here yesterday. They were then taken to the civil hospital for medical check-ups.

Acting on a tip-off, the 'Anti Child Labour Cell' raided the stone quarries yesterday morning. The owners objected to the accusation and insisted that there were no children working anywhere in their quarries. However, the activists were accompanied by a specially trained dog, which soon sniffed out the children who were hidden in a makeshift shack not far from the quarries. They were cramped together and many were crying.

"It was indeed a pitiable sight," said one of the officers. "Many of us had tears in our eyes when we saw the condition of the little children, most of whom had skin infections. All of them were severely malnourished. The owners have been arrested and will be tried in court." One wonders: how can human beings be so cruel?

(3) Knowing the importance of teeth, your school had arranged a dental check-up camp. Prepare a report for your school magazine based on the following headline :

'Model School organises Dental Check-up Camp'

Ans. Model School organises Dental Check-Up Camp

– By News Team

July 21 : The dental camp organised at our School yesterday was a huge success. Over 200 students from the secondary section had their teeth checked by a panel of four doctors. They were then advised about the future course of action that they would have to take.

Just before the start of the camp, the students were given a short lecture by Dr A.S. Nadkarni, one of the doctors present. He laid great emphasis on healthy eating habits. He spoke about the harmful effects of consuming junk food, which is a growing habit today, on the teeth. He tried to discourage the audience from eating sweets and chocolates, which also were bad for the teeth. He elaborated that our teeth were an important part of our personality and should be kept white and sparkling. He then suggested that the school could have regular check-up camps to help their students maintain good dental health.

India's Vikram lands on the South Pole of Moon

Ans. India's Vikram lands on the South Pole of Moon

– By a Staff Reporter

Bengaluru, Aug. 24 : India has become the first country to successfully land a spacecraft near the south pole of the moon, in a historic moment that drew cheers from citizens all over the country. "This moment is unforgettable. It is phenomenal. This is a victory cry of a new India," said the Prime Minister.

Chandrayaan-3 spacecraft's Vikram lander touched down shortly after 6 pm near the little-explored lunar south pole, in a world first for any space programme. Scientists and officials clapped, cheered and hugged each other as the spacecraft landed and people across India celebrated joyously. The Chandrayaan-3 is expected to remain functional for two weeks, running a series of experiments.

"India is on the moon," said S. Somanath, Chief of the Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO). ISRO shared pictures from the spacecraft showing the moon's surface. India became the fourth nation to successfully land a spacecraft on the moon after the United States, China and the former Soviet Union.

'Helper's daughter scores 96% in Class XII'

Ans. Helper's Daughter Scores 96% in Class XII

– By XYZ

Pune, 27 June : It was indeed a heart-warming sight to see Meena being felicitated and cheered during a function at her school, by students and staff alike. She had scored 96% in Class XII.

Why was Meena selected for this honour when she was not the topper? The reason is this : Meena is Harihar's daughter, and Harihar is the sweeper-helper at the same school. The staff and students are thrilled because it is through their efforts that she has reached this milestone in her life.

"I have to thank all of you here for this achievement," said Meena, with tears in her eyes, during her thanksgiving speech. "It would not have been possible for me to even appear for the exam, let alone score so well, if it was not for the financial and moral support given by all of you." Harihar too had tears in his eyes as he watched his daughter being felicitated on the very same stage that he had so diligently cleaned that day. Meena plans to become a computer engineer and help her family.

(6) Write a news report based on the given headline :

Blood Donation Camp Organised by NGO

Ans. Blood Donation Camp organised by an NGO

– P.T.I.

Pune, August 15 : A successful blood donation camp was held at the EST Hospital at Ravivar Peth today. Dr R.C. Patil, who inaugurated the camp, gave a short speech on the importance of blood donation.

All the probable donors were given a free medical check-up before they donated blood. There were nine doctors in charge of the actual procedures. After the event, every donor was served nutritious snacks and tea. These were arranged by a local NGO, who also helped in the organisation of the camp.

"A record number of people have donated blood this year," said a beaming Dr Kulkarni. "We are very happy that our awareness programme has been successful, and more and more people are coming forward to donate blood. We expect even more donors at the next camp, which will be held on January 26th."

Q. 7 (B) (B1) OR (B2) – Story OR Narration

DEVELOPING A STORY OR NARRATING AN EXPERIENCE WITH THE GIVEN BEGINNING/END

(Total : 5 Marks)

How to attempt this question :

- (1) You will be given either the beginning words or the ending words on which to base your story/narration.
- (2) Using the help of the given words, you have to use your imagination and develop your own story or narrate an experience.
- (3) The sequence of events in the story should flow naturally and easily in their order of occurrence. The names of characters, events, places, situations, etc. must be included in your story.
- (4) The story should be short and well-organised. Don't forget to give your story a title.

Marking Scheme :

- | | |
|--------------------------|--------|
| • Title and Beginning | 1 mark |
| • Vocabulary and Grammar | 1 mark |
| • Appropriate Points | 1 mark |
| • Logical Order | 1 mark |
| • Conclusion | 1 mark |

Total 5 marks

(1) Develop a story and suggest a suitable title. The conclusion/end is given.

..... they learnt a lesson to live with the thought 'Be Punctual'.

(March '25)

Ans.

Be Punctual

Vihaan, Vicky and Arjun were very good friends. They loved playing football and were very good at it. They were praised so often that they became vain and thought themselves indispensable to their team.

One day, the football coach announced that there would be selections for a match. All those who were interested had to reach the school at 5 p.m. sharp.

"But we were going to see a film at the mall," said Vihaan to his friends in dismay. "We will have to cancel it!"

"No," said Vicky thoughtfully. "The show ends at 5 p.m. We will easily reach school by 5.30. Only half an hour late. They will wait for us."

However, they had not realised how strict their coach was about punctuality. When the three boys reached their school at 5.30, sure that everybody would be waiting for them, they found that the selections were over and the team had been chosen.

"But what about us?" asked Vicky in dismay. "You know we love football and we are very good at it!"

"Then you should have been here on time," said their coach sternly. "The others have been waiting since 4.30."

The three boys looked around miserably. Why had they not postponed their film? Why had they been so arrogant? That was the time when they learnt to live with the thought 'Be Punctual'.

(2) Develop a story in about 80 – 100 words with the following beginning. Give a suitable title :

Madhu was in a cake shop to buy a cake for her birthday.

She saw

Ans.

The Joy of Giving

Madhu was in a cake shop to buy a cake for her birthday. She saw a small beggar boy outside the shop. He was looking at the array of cakes with silent longing in his eyes. Madhu felt a stirring of compassion within her.

She counted the money she had, then looked at the prices of the cakes and made up her mind. There was only one thing to do. She would buy a smaller cake for herself and with the leftover money, a slice for the little boy.

Coming out of the shop a few minutes later, she gestured to the boy and gave him a small box. She watched his face as he opened the box and saw the mouth-watering slice of strawberry cake. That look of thrill and wonder in his eyes was her best birthday gift.

(3) Develop a story in about 80–100 words with the following ending. Give a suitable title :

..... and that's when he decided to avoid the use of plastic.

Ans. Say 'NO' to Plastic

It was a day of heavy rains. Kapil reached home, and saw a terrible sight.

The rain water had entered his small house. His mother was standing by helplessly, as the water rose higher by the second; their clothes, TV set, cupboard, all began going under water. People were sobbing as they saw their precious belongings carried away by the rain.

Suddenly Kapil saw what the problem was. The drain next to his building was completely choked—with what seemed to be millions of plastic bags and other bits of plastic. Broken plastic buckets, plastic containers, plastic school bags, plastic carry-bags,—they were all there, piled up. Unable to flow through the drain because of the plastic items clogging it, the rain water had entered their homes.

“Plastic! It has ruined our lives,” said an old lady standing nearby. Kapil nodded slowly. At that moment that he made a vow to himself to stop using plastic, and to make others stop it too.

That was when Kapil decided to avoid the use of plastic.

(4) Develop a story with the following ending in about 80 – 100 words. Give a suitable title having a moral :

..... and today he is a millionaire.

Ans. No Short Cuts to Success

This is the story of my uncle, who came to Mumbai from a small village in Gujarat, and started a scrap business. He bought metal scrap from merchants and recycled it. It was a very boring job, but my uncle saw a prosperous future in it. He went about diligently in his work, and he soon had his own recycling factory. Due to sheer hard work, he progressed, till he became the owner of several factories. He then diversified and entered the electronics market at the correct time. He set up shops to sell electronic gadgets and his showrooms just kept on increasing. Still, he did not give up working hard. He always told us that we must work hard for there are no short cuts to success. We believe him, for he started from scratch and has now reached great heights. He was a pauper, and today he is a millionaire!

(5) Narrate an experience with the given beginning.

It was raining heavily and I was going to (March '25)

Ans.

A Rescue

It was raining heavily and I was going to simply sit at home and watch some cartoons on TV. However, when I went to close the window, I saw a very pitiful sight on the road outside. A little pup had got caught in a large, deep puddle of water and was trying to swim to the edge, but without success. The mother was standing at the edge, trying to give directions in her own doggy way. I knew that the mother and her pup belonged to an old lady staying in a dilapidated cottage near our building.

I was afraid that the pup would die. Without thinking further, I wore my rain shoes and ran down the stairs. The mother dog wagged her tail when she saw me and gave a piteous whine. I knew exactly what she was telling me: Save my pup, please!

I got into the puddle – which was pretty deep, even for me – and gently picked up the struggling pup. I took it to the gate of the cottage and it rushed in without a backward look.

But the mother did not forget my good deed. She came to me in the pouring rain, looked up and gave a little whine, wagging her soggy tail furiously. Then she gave my hand a large lick and scampered behind her naughty baby. Though I did not know doggy language, I knew that she had just said 'thank you' to me!

(6) Narrate an experience in about 80 – 100 words with the following ending. Give a suitable title :

..... I discovered that I had forgotten my wallet at home.

Ans.

An Embarrassing Incident

I remember the incident clearly. It was my birthday and I wanted to give my friends a treat.

"I want to take my friends to 'Joe's Diner', Daddy," I said. Now, Joe's Diner was a luxurious, expensive restaurant, but Daddy had promised me that I could take my friends there.

“Certainly,” beamed Daddy. “Mummy will accompany you.”

“No adults. I will take my friends myself,” I said firmly. My father agreed and explained how I had to order, how to check the prices, etc. Finally, that evening, I happily went with Amar and Roshan for dinner at ‘Joe’s Diner’.

We checked prices, calculated what the bill and the tip would be, and ate a comfortable dinner. I felt very proud of myself. I had managed it!

And then I made the horrifying discovery that I could not pay the bill. After the sumptuous meal in a luxurious hotel, I discovered that I had forgotten my wallet at home.

(7) Narrate an experience in about 80–100 words with the following ending :

..... before the last date of submission!

Ans. The day I will never forget

I will never ever forget the day when I lost my Science Journal. It was just two days before my practical exams, and I had gone to my friend Rashmi’s house with my father, to show her my completed Science journal. I was in a hurry and forgot the journal in the car. My father left the car for a few moments to get some batteries; in those few moments, the bag carrying my journal vanished from the car. When I returned to the car and realized it was missing, I got into a panic. I started crying loudly.

A few urchins gathered to watch what was happening. I told them that I would give ₹ 100 to the one who found my journal. They ran off and soon returned with the precious journal. It had been thrown in the nearby garbage heap. My wallet, which was inside the bag, was missing, but I did not care about that. I gave them the promised amount and hugged my journal. Thank God I had found my Science Journal before the last date of submission!

(8) Narrate an experience to the given beginning (in about 80–100 words) :

It was a hot sunny day.

Ans. One hot afternoon ...

It was a hot sunny day. I was relaxing under a mango tree at the bottom of our garden, when suddenly a mango seed hit me on my shoulder.

I sat up indignantly and looked around. There was not a soul in sight. I heard a small sound like a giggle; then another seed hit me on my head.

“Ouch! Who is it? Where are you? Come on out!” I yelled angrily, looking up into the tree. I could not see anyone in the branches. There was another small giggle.

“Coward! Show yourself!” I shouted. Picking up the mango seed I flung it back into the tree.

There was a sudden, loud blood-curling screech which froze my blood. What on earth was in the tree that made such a sound?

“Who is it?” I asked, my voice trembling. “Who is it?” There was another horrible screech and then a small monkey leapt down from the tree, a mango in its paw. Looking at me angrily it bounded away. I sighed with relief. It was only a monkey that had been in the tree – not some alien or extra-terrestrial!

Your Ultimate companion to success!

Non-Textual (Unseen) Passages for Comprehension and Summary

Q. 4. (A) & (B) of Activity Sheet

(Total marks : 15)

Non-Textual Passage 1

Q. 1. A Read the following passage and complete the activities :

A1. List the diseases that are caused by houseflies.

When you think of the most dangerous pests, the housefly probably isn't one of the first that comes to mind. Instead, you probably think of a pest that stings, like a wasp or bee.

It is true that flies rarely bite or sting, but their danger lies in the fact that they often land on dead animals, rotten food, manure and trash. Because they frequent those places, they pick up and spread diseases that are harmful to humans.

You get typhoid fever when you eat or drink Salmonella typhi bacteria in contaminated food.

Cholera is an intestinal infection, and you get it when you ingest bacteria called Vibrio cholera.

Dysentery is one of the more common diseases you might catch from the bacteria spread by a housefly.

It gets worse – houseflies can also carry and spread leprosy and anthrax. They even transmit the eggs of parasitic worms!

Fortunately, there are several methods you can use to keep houseflies away, so you and your loved ones can avoid catching any of the diseases transmitted by the tiny pests.

A yard full of animal waste, grass clippings and other debris will keep you from getting rid of your housefly problem. So, take the time to keep your yards clean. You should cut the lawns.

Flies love to hang out around rotting food, so make sure all trash cans are sealed tightly. Make sure all of your food is covered, and if you have fresh produce, keep it in a bag or sealed container. Also, avoid leaving dirty dishes in your sink. The scent of food leftovers could easily attract houseflies.

A2. Write how you can get rid of houseflies using the given clues :

- (i) Avoid – (ii) Keep fresh produce –
(iii) Cut – (iv) Take time to –

A3. Using the prefixes make antonyms for the given words :

dis, im, un, in, mis.

- (i) probable× (ii) clean× (iii) infect× (iv) human×

A4. (i) It is true that flies rarely bite or sting.

(Pick out the subordinate clause and state its kind.)

- (ii) You get typhoid fever when you eat or drink Salmonella typhi bacteria in contaminated food. (Frame a Wh-question to get the underlined part as the answer.)

A5. How do you keep yourself away from any disease?

B Write a summary of the given passage. Suggest a suitable title :

Non-Textual Passage 2

Q. 2. A Read the following passage carefully and complete the activities :

A1. Mention any four advantages of cycling as given in the passage :

Motor transport is killing us! So says Dr Anuradha Lal of DHI (Doctors for a Healthy India) which met in Delhi yesterday. Thousands of people die every year in traffic accidents. Even more people die because they breathe polluted air from motor vehicles. (Delhi is one of the most polluted cities in the world.) So what is the answer? DHI says we should make cycling easier. Dr Lal outlined six reasons why :

- (1) Most Indian cities are very polluted because every motor vehicle produces dirty fumes. Doctor says that city air is so dirty that thousands of people die every year from chest illnesses. Cycling is clean because it produces no fumes.
- (2) Cyclists don't have to spend on petrol, so bicycles are cheap to run. Cycle repairs are cheaper than motor repairs too because bicycles are quite simple machines.
- (3) Bicycles save money for our country too. All motor vehicles need petrol, which comes from oil. India does not produce much oil so we have to buy it from other countries. But we don't need to buy anything from foreign countries to ride bicycles.
- (4) If we get exercise every day, we become healthy. Cycling keeps us fit. Driving motor vehicles does not!
- (5) In cities, sometimes traffic doesn't move at all as there is not enough space on the roads. Bicycles are too small to take up much road space.
- (6) Motor traffic is very noisy. In contrast, bicycles are quiet – except for the gentle 'tring, tring' of their bells.

A2. Complete the table pointing out the differences between a cycle and other vehicles :

Point of difference	Pollution	Price	Health of a rider	Space on the road
Cycle	Clean		Keeps one healthy
Other Vehicles		Costly		Covers major space

A3. Point out the contextual meaning of the underlined words in the sentences :

- (i) Bicycles save money for country too.
- (ii) Bicycles are too small to take up much road space.

A4. Do as directed :

- (i) Delhi is one of the most polluted cities in the world.
(Begin your sentence with 'Very few')
- (ii) Cycle repairs are cheaper than motor repairs.
(Begin your sentence with 'Motor repairs')

A5. How, according to you, will cycling be safer and easier in cities?

B Write a summary of the above passage using the given points. Suggest a suitable title :

(narrator ... effect of motors ... benefits of cycling)

Non-Textual Passage 3

Q. 3. A Read the following passage and complete the given activities :

A1. Complete the following :

- (i) Shades of mehendi :
- (ii) Instant mehendi is provided by :
- (iii) Designs of mehendi :
- (iv) Henna gets importance in :

Henna comes in different shades, from reddish orange to brownish black. The Arabic preference for a black tinge sees them heating the paste before using. A growing trend today is the addition of artificial dyes and coloured stones along with the henna in order to match the attire. This, however, does not last long and cannot be considered as mehendi in its true sense. Zardosi mehendi is the variation of this trend wherein glue is first applied in desired patterns and zari powder of different colours are carefully sprinkled. This lasts only as long as the glue stays and can even be washed off in case of an error.

Cones are most popular means of application of mehendi. To suit those in hurry, ready-made patterns and blocks are available for quick and easy application. Tattoos in interesting shades are also available today, providing a means of 'instant mehendi'. Besides the ease of applying it on and taking off, tattoos also come in previously unseen oriental designs. In addition to the usual paisleys, and creepers, dragons, scorpions and snakes adorn many an arm or shoulder of the fashionably conscious.

The attractive hues left behind the deep green Henna leaves, have a special significance during marriages and festivals in many eastern countries. The customs behind its usage adds to its rich appeal. Through centuries, mehendi has managed to creatively retain its hold on people from diverse cultures.

A2. Match the Column 'A' with Column 'B' :

Column 'A'	Column 'B'
(i) Arabic mehendi	(a) glue is applied for the pattern
(ii) Zardosi mehendi	(b) black tinge is prepared by heating mehendi
(iii) Tattoo	(c) drawn with the help of a cone
(iv) Mehendi	(d) provides instant design

A3. Fill in the blanks by choosing the appropriate words from those given in the brackets and rewrite the statements :

[adorned, instant, pattern, attire, applied]

- (i) The gold ring his fingers.
- (ii) The young man wore a shirt with a floral
- (iii) A.T.M. provides us cash.
- (iv) The bride looked beautiful in her bridal

A4. Do as directed :

- (i) Cones are the most popular means of application of Mehendi :

(Select the correct positive degree from the alternatives given below and rewrite the statements.)

- (a) Very few means of application of Mehendi are as popular as cones.
- (b) No other means of application of Mehendi are as popular as cones.
- (c) Cones are as popular as any other means of application of Mehendi.

- (ii) Henna comes in different shades. (Frame a 'Wh-question' to get the underlined word as answer.)

A5. How does Mehendi give scope for art? Explain.

Information Transfer – Verbal to Non-verbal

Q. 6. (A) A1 of Activity Sheet
(Total marks : 5)

(1) Here are some tips about hair care. Read and write in the form of a Dos and Don'ts table. Give a suitable title for the table :

We must take care of our hair. Healthy hair looks beautiful and makes us look good. It is important to keep our hair clean by washing it regularly with soap or shampoo. At the same time, washing our hair too often can spoil our hair, it can make it dry and brittle. To have healthy hair, we must eat a balanced diet, which provides nourishment to our hair and skin. We should eat lots of green leafy vegetables, fresh fruits and cereals. Consumption of amla juice, ash gourd juice, pumpkin and coconut water enhances hair growth. We should avoid hard chemicals and dyes. We should also avoid the intake of maida (fine flour) and deep fried dishes, sweets made of white sugar, soft drinks, tea and coffee. We should not expose the hair to the sun during the hottest time of the day. We should cover it up and wear a hat instead. If we follow a healthy regime of yoga and breathing exercises, we can enjoy healthy hair for a long time as it slows down the process of greying and ageing.

(2) Read the following information and complete the table given below it :

Chandrayaan-2, India's second mission to the Moon will, for the first time, unravel secrets around the Moon's South Pole. Chandrayaan-2 is a three-part spacecraft – an orbiter, a lander and a rover. The lander is named Vikram after Vikram Sarabhai, the founder of the Indian space programme. The rover is named Pragyan, meaning 'wisdom'.

Chandrayaan-2 was launched on 22 July, 2019 atop ISRO's GSLV Mk-III-1 at 2:43 p.m. from the Satish Dhawan Space Centre at Sriharikota. Performing as expected, the rocket released Chandrayaan-2 in a highly elliptic orbit around Earth about 17 minutes later. In fact, it was released 6,000 km higher than planned. The solar arrays on Chandrayaan-2 developed smoothly as the probe began its journey.

A1. Write True or False within the boxes provided after each sentence :

(1) We have a rose plant in our garden.

(2) As evening approaches, the flower withers completely.

(3) We went to a rocky beach.

(4) Our problems are not colossal.

We have a hibiscus plant in our garden. Every fortnight a flower blooms on it – big, bright and tender. Through the day it smiles with the sun and dances with the wind, but as evening approaches, it starts wilting. The morning after, it withers completely and by evening it falls and becomes one with the earth again. The flower comes to life only for a day, yet it does so in full splendour. What if we too lived our life, however short, to its fullest?

We went to a rocky beach and saw the spread of the majestic ocean and the rocks alongside, carved, sculpted and shaped by the water. Water is so gentle, rock so hard, yet, as the water flows over it every day, for years, the rock gives in. It takes the shape that the water commands. Our problems are so colossal and we are so small, yet if we persist

We saw small bits of grass peeping through the small cracks in a concrete pavement. It left us thinking : however impossible things may look, there is always an opening

A2. How should we deal with difficulties and problems?

One morning in a small apartment in Bombay a girl of about sixteen looked up from the newspaper and said excitedly, 'Pandit Ravi Shankar's playing tomorrow at the Shanmukhananda auditorium'.

'Sh-sh,' said her mother pointing to the figure sleeping on the bed. 'You'll wake him up. You know he needs all the sleep and rest he can get.'

But the boy on the bed was not asleep. 'Pandit Ravi Shankar!' he said. 'Pandit Ravi Shankar, the sitar maestro?' He raised himself up on his elbows for one second, then fell back. But his eyes were shining. 'We mustn't miss the chance,' he said. 'I've – I've – always wanted to hear him and see him ...'

‘Lie down son, lie down.’ His mother sprang to his side. ‘He actually raised himself up without help,’ she murmured with a catch in her throat and her eyes turned to the idols on a corner shelf. The prayer, which she uttered endlessly, came unbidden to her lips.

- (4) The poet watched the feeding on his mother.

May he sit still, they said
May the sins of your previous birth be burned away tonight, they said.
May your suffering decrease the misfortunes of your next birth, they said.
May the sum of all evil balanced in this unreal world against the sum of good become diminished by your pain.
May the poison purify your flesh of desire, and your spirit of ambition, they said, and they sat around on the floor with my mother in the centre,
the peace of understanding on each face.
More candles, more lanterns, more neighbours,
more insects, and the endless rain.
My mother twisted through and through,
groaning on a mat.
My father, sceptic, rationalist,
trying every curse and blessings, powder, mixture, herb and hybrid.
He even poured a little paraffin upon the bitten toe and put a match to it.

I watched the flame feeding on my mother.
I watched the holy man perform his rites to tame the poison with an incantation.
After twenty hours
it lost its sting.
My mother only said
Thank God the scorpion picked on me.
And spared my children.

Q. 3. (B) Read the following poem and write an appreciation of it with the help of the given points in a paragraph format : 5

All the World's a Stage

All the world's a stage,
And all the men and women merely players;
They have their exits and their entrances,
And one man in his time plays many parts,
His acts being seven ages. At first, the infant,
Mewling and puking in the nurse's arms.
Then the whining schoolboy, with his satchel
And shining morning face, creeping like snail
Unwillingly to school. And then the lover,
Sighing like furnace, with a woeful ballad
Made to his mistress' eyebrow. Then a soldier,
Full of strange oaths and bearded like the pard,
Jealous in honour, sudden and quick in quarrel,
Sicking the bubble reputation
Even in the cannon's mouth. And then the justice,
In fair round belly with good capon lined,
With eyes severe and beard of formal cut,

Full of wise saws and modern instances;
 And so he plays his part. The sixth age shifts
 Into the lean and slippered pantaloon,
 With spectacles on nose and pouch on side;
 His youthful hose, well saved, a world too wide
 For his shrunk shank, and his big manly voice,
 Turning again toward childish treble, pipes
 And whistles in his sound. Last scene of all,
 That ends this strange eventful history,
 Is second childishness and mere oblivion,
 Sans teeth, sans eyes, sans taste, sans everything.

SECTION IV : NON-TEXTUAL PASSAGE

[Reading Skills, Vocabulary, Grammar and Summary]

Q. 4. (A) Read the following passage and do the given activities : 10

A1. Complete the web : 2

Madagascar is not famous only for its lemurs, though the animated films might give you that impression! The island nation off the east coast of Africa is home to interesting endemic carnivores, too. One of them is the Fossa. Though it is the largest carnivore on the island, the fossa's habits in the wild are little known since it is so elusive.

Madagascar's top predator looks like a mix of a monkey, a cat and a weasel! A rich golden brown colour with a whitish belly, a fossa has paws with claws like a cat, a 65-70-cm-long thin tail like a monkey and small rounded ears like a weasel! Its tail measures about the same as its sinuous, low-slung body.

Earlier, scientists thought that it was a nocturnal hunter because it was so rarely spotted. However, recent studies have shown that fossas hunt and sleep at any time of the day. It is a superb ambush hunter and eats small and medium-sized prey such as fish, birds, mice and wild pigs. However, its main food is lemurs.

Fossas are equally at home on tall trees and on the ground. The long tail helps them to maintain their balance on narrow branches. Retractable claws and flexible ankle joints enable them to climb down tree trunks head first!

The den is made in an old termite mound, the hollow of a tree or a rock crevice. There are two to six pups to a litter and they are born toothless and with white fur. They are dependent on the mother till they are eight months old.

A2. Describe the physical appearance of fossa. 2

Vitamins play a major role in keeping us fit and healthy. They are essential for the growth and development of human body. We must have vitamins regularly. There are four types of vitamins. They are Vitamins A, B, C and D. Vitamin A is found mostly in milk, butter and eggs. The sources of Vitamin B are meat and eggs. Eggs provide us both Vitamins A and B. We can get Vitamin C from fruits and vegetables and Vitamin D from sunlight and fish oil. The sun is the rich source of Vitamin D. So sit or work in sunlight.

Deficiency of these vitamins causes dangerous threat to the human body. It leads to various disease and unhealthiness. Lack of Vitamin A causes blindness. Vitamin B leads to the disorder of the nervous system. Human skin is affected due to deficiency of Vitamin C. This leads to various skin diseases, while Vitamin D deficiency makes our bones weak. So, to keep fit, take a balanced diet which provides all the vitamins.
